Youth Survives Near Drowning

A 14-year-old boy today continued a struggle for life at City Hospital after he was pulled from the bottom of a Glenmoor swimming pool late Tuesday afternoon and revived from near drowning.

Bruce McBee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. McBee of Campground Rd., remained in "poor" condition at the hospital, clinging to life thanks to breathing and heart action that was restored by rescuers who rushed to his aid about 5 p. m. at a swimming pool at Lake Samary along the Y. & O. Rd. at Glenmoor.

Although the boy has been unconscious most of the time since tumbling off the diving board into the pool about 5 p. m. yesterday, the family said he revived momentarily this morning and recognized his parents, who were at his bedside.

Quick action on the part of four members of Glenmoor American Legion Post 736, whose headquarters overlooks the lake, along with the help of Glenmoor firemen and an ambulance crew, was credited with reviving the boy from apparent death.

Bruce and his brother, Roger, 12, had gone to the lake property to do chores for the owner, Sam Stepanovich, whose home is at the site of the small resort, the family said. Bruce took off his shoes and walked out onto a diving board at the deep end of the pool, the family said.

When Bruce slipped off the board, Roger jumped into the water in an attempt to rescue him, the family said. But the struggles of the older brother nearly pulled Roger under, so he extricated himself, made his way back to the poolside and obtained a length of plastic pipe which he extended toward Bruce, the family related.

The shouts of the two boys and a small girl who happened by alerted Mrs. Mary Stepanovich, wife of the lake's owner, who had gone outside to hang up clothes.

After learning of the emergency, she hurried to the Legion's home nearby and shouted for help.

Four men rushed to aid — Stepanovich, the lake's owner, William Grier of Township Line Rd. and William Stowers and James Foutts, both of Glenmoor. They drove the short distance to the pool in a truck and an auto, stripping off parts of their clothes on the way.

All four men dived into the pool for an underwater search, as there was no sign of the boy.

Foutts' foot bumped the boy underwater, and he pulled him to the surface. By this time, Grier estimated, the boy had been under water "over five minutes." He said the boy's

Goldwater's Slate Loses In Florida

Governor Sworn To Oppose Rights Is Democrats' Choice

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A delegate slate pledged to Sen. Barry Goldwater was turned down by Republicans, and a governor sworn to erect barriers against civil rights was nominated by Democrats in Tuesday's Florida primary.

Goldwater's chances of Florida support at the national convention were not erased. But they were weakened by election of a slate headed by a man who made no bones about current disenchantment with the Arizona conservative.

"Goldwater appeared on television and radio extensively in the last week and campaigned against us," said Tom Fairfield Brown of Tampa, state Republican chairman who heads the winning slate.

"I feel we have a mandate from the people to go to California and represent Florida the best we can. Whether the delegates will be in favor of Goldwater when we get there may be another matter."

Brown's slate will send at least 28 of the 34 Florida delegates to the convention. The six other spots remained in doubt.

It was a big victory for Brown, who had led his delegation in a fight for the state party leadership against Rep. William Cramer, R-Fla., who headed the slate pledged to Goldwater.

Haydon Burns, 52-year-old mayor of Jacksonville and a tough-talking foe of the civil rights bill, won the Democratic nomination for governor. That means almost certain election in November against Republican Charles Holley, a state legislator.

Burns won by a margin of more than 169,000 votes over Mayor Robert King High of Miami, who had promised to enforce any civil rights law enacted by Congress and signed by President Johnson.

Leaders Eye Vote Needed For Cloture

Senate Showdown Over Rights Bill Seen Sure In June

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate leaders are scrambling for the votes needed to apply cloture now that a showdown over the civil rights bill appears certain next month.

A revised bill — compromised to attract the undecided but retaining the basic provisions of the version which cleared the House Feb. 10—was finally introduced in the Senate Tuesday after weeks of tinkering.

The bipartisan leaders immediately voiced varying degrees of confidence that it will clear the Senate in June. Assistant Democratic leader Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota said he hopes the House then will agree to the Senate version in time for President Johnson to sign the bill into law by July 4.

First, however, the rights forces must get two-thirds of the senators present and voting to approve an end to debate, which is in its 65th day today.

The leaders are not willing to claim they have the votes now to limit debate by invoking cloture, but they say they expect to have them by next month, although there is some disagreement as to just when.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said he hopes cloture will be tried by the second week in June. Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, chief author of the package of amendments which led to the compromise, said he fears this might be a bit too early.

Dirksen called the revised bill "workable, practicable, equitable and fair" and declared "it is infinitely better than what came to us from the House."

Mansfield said he knows some civil rights opponents will be disappointed, but he insisted that "this is the best that can be done."

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., leader of the Southern forces, quickly scorned the package.

Russell said Northern and Western senators had succeeded in writing in safeguards for their states which made the bill more than ever a "punitive expedition" against the South.

Cooler Temperature To Last Into Thursday

A cool trend that began to develop Tuesday night may persist through Thursday, according to the Ohio weatherman, who forecast a low of 45-50 for tonight.

The day's high may not go much above 70 despite sunny skies. Tomorrow will be fair and cool. The downtown had a relatively mild early-morning reading of 64 at 6.

Montgomery Dam at Ohioview had a high yesterday of 78 with about 72 today noon, according to Charles Boughner, lockmaster, who reported no rain although some upriver stations listed a trace of precipitation last night.

Crucible Steel Board Declares 2 Dividends

The Board of Directors of the Crucible Steel Co. of America has declared a quarterly dividend of 20 cents per share on common stock payable June 30 to shareholders of record June 16.

A quarterly dividend of $1.3125 per share was also declared by the board on the 5¼ per cent convertible preferred stock, payable the same date.

Congolese Garrison Mutinies In Katanga

ELISABETHVILLE, the Congo (AP)—A Congolese garrison in the north Katanga town of Albertville has mutinied, a Katanga official said today.

Katanga was the province led by Moise Tshombe, who refused to unite with the Congo's central government until forced to do so by the United Nations.

Michel Kitenta, a north Katanga minister now in Elisabethville, said he had been told of the mutiny in reports from Albertville.

Other reports said five persons were killed in recent riots in the north Katanga capital. These reports could not be confirmed. There has been no contact with Albertville since Tuesday.

U.S. Plan To End Chief Viet Effort In 1965 Fading

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is unlikely to admit it, but it seems apparent the plan to wind up the major part of the U.S. military effort in South Viet Nam by the end of 1965 has quietly withered away.

When officials are reminded of that plan, announced last October, they reply: "But there have been two coups in Saigon since then."

What they mean is that the effort against the Communist insurgents has been set back by confusion and disorganization stemming from two changes in the South Vietnamese government. These were the overthrow of the Diem regime by a military junta in November and the overthrow of the junta by another military group in January.

The belief is that the 15,500 U.S. military men in South Viet Nam will not be reduced appreciably, if at all, this year, and perhaps not to any great extent next year.

New plans to double the number of Vietnamese pilots and to boost the Vietnamese ground forces by some 50,000 men will entail increased U.S. training responsibilities that will carry over at least into 1965.

Some U.S. advisers will return home as their tasks are finished—as the Vietnamese get the hang of doing certain things for themselves.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says repeatedly it will be a long, hard struggle before the Communists are overcome in Viet Nam.

The latest indication that the end-of-1965 target date has been shelved came Tuesday after McNamara testified in secret before the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., the committee chairman, said McNamara "was not as optimistic on his timetable as he had been before."

Actually, McNamara for some time has avoided any direct answer to reporters' questions about whether the 1965 objective still holds.

Some officials contend there never was a flat commitment to pull out the bulk of U.S. military men by the end of next year.

They say it was an objective predicated on the ability of the South Vietnamese to stand on their own feet and to control most of their country, and on political stability in Viet Nam.

These officials also note that

Board Raises Budget And Midland Tax

$801,914 Adopted Tentatively; Hike Of $87,470 Slated

A tentative budget of $801,914 was proposed by the Midland Board of Education at a special meeting at the high school Tuesday evening.

The amount calls for an increase of $87,470 over the 1963-64 budget of $724,444 and is based on a 38-mill tax on real estate, an increase of 5 mills.

Principal increases are a $36,380 expenditure for a new high school science department and $27,575 allowance for adoption of a new salary schedule for professional employes.

Edward Cilli, president, read a prepared statement that explained "with a reduction of $2,400,000 in the assessed valuation for the 1962-63 and 1963-64 school years, the school district lost a total of $79,200, based on a 33-mill tax rate. Despite this fact it was necessary that quality education be offered and repairs and replacements be made in the plant.

"Notable in this category was the replacement of the heating and hot water systems in the high school at a cost of $28,712.58. Of this amount only $4,000 was budgeted in 1963-64 with the balance to be paid over the following four years. However, this amount was paid in full this year.

"The 1964-65 budget is based on a 38-mill tax on real estate, a 5-mill increase. Some of the items which have made this increase necessary in addition to a further loss of $1,200,000 in assessed valuation are:

"A complete new science department, which will be second to none in the county, at a cost of $36,380, less a $17,000 pay-

Top Cabinet Member Is Acting Head

Prime Minister Had Taken Neutralism, Socialism Paths

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, the aristocratic statesman who led India in the paths of neutralism and socialism since it became independent in 1947, died today after suffering his second stroke in less than five months. He was 74.

Home Minister G. L. Nanda, a senior Cabinet member who has a reputation for getting things done, was sworn in as acting prime minister 10 hours after Nehru's death.

Nanda was sworn in by President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan. An elderly philosopher renowned in world academic circles, Radhakrishnan was charged under the constitution to take over the government on the death of the prime minister. But Nanda was quickly chosen to handle the administrative details.

Nehru's death was attributed to a heart attack and shock.

Nehru was stricken at 6:25 a.m. as he arose at his usual hour. He died at 2 p.m. — 4:30 a.m. EDT, seven hours and 35 minutes later. A stroke on Jan. 7 had partially paralyzed his left side but he had recovered somewhat and in recent weeks had resumed his seat in Parliament.

His only child, Mrs. Indira Gandhi, was with him when he died. A large team of doctors was in attendance. The U.S. Embassy offered its medical staff and equipment, but an embassy spokesman said the Indian government did not request assistance.

Nehru's two sisters, Mrs. Vijayalakshmi Pandit and Mrs. Krishna Hutheesingh, left Bom-

E. E. Richards Gets Midland School Post

Edgar E. Richards of Callente, Nev., was named by the Midland Board of Education Tuesday night as the new superintendent of schools, to fill the unexpired term of the late Dr. Ralph E. Jewell.

A native of Eastern Pennsylvania, Richards received his bachelor's degree in education from Bloomsburg State College in Bloomsburg, Pa., and his master's degree in education from Temple University. He also had graduate study at the University of Pennsylvania.

He has served in various capacities in education, including teacher, director of audio-visual aids, junior high school principal, assistant principal and superintendent.

He served as superintendent in the Chichester Joint School System in Boothwyn, Pa., from 1953-62, and for the past two years has been classification councilor and executive officer for the Nevada Girls' Training Center in Calinete.

He is married and has one married son and another now serving in the armed services.

Hired at a salary of $11,500 per year, he is scheduled to take over his duties in Midland on or before July 1. His appointment runs through June 30, 1966.

3 Teachers Resign

Hancock Board Seats Dr. Brand

The resignations of three teachers and a specialist in the system were received by the Hancock County Board of Education Tuesday night, when Dr. J. M. Brand of Chester was installed as a new member from Grant District.

Among those resigning is Harry A. Wagaman, who has been director of educational television in the system since about 1960. He is returning to Hagerstown, Md., for a better position, Supt. Robert H. Hall said.

THE BOARD hired as his successor J. Edward Penn, active in the "ETV" field in a Georgia school system.

Others resigning were Miss Eleanor Johnson of Weir High, after 35 years, and Mrs. William Huff of Weirton Broadview and Mary Ann Vance of Weir Junior High. Miss Johnson will retire.

Dr. Brand was administered the oath as a new member by Miss Iris Cuppy, notary public employed in the board offices. He will serve a little over four years, filling the unexpired term of John W. Boyd of Chester. J. Fred Allison served in the vacancy since last year. Dr. Brand won the post in the May 12 primary, when Allison did not seek re-election.

EIGHT NEW teachers were hired. They include Perry Sutton, social studies at New Cumberland Junior High, Saretta McKnight, social studies—English at Chester Junior High; and Michael Krosney, science at Chester Junior High. The others will serve in Weirton.

The board agreed that high schools in the system may hold baccalaureate services if they wish. There had been a question on baccalaureate this year over interpretation of a Supreme Court ruling.

Acting on the request of the county teachers, the board agreed to allow the school calendar adopted previously to continue in effect. It calls for students to finish classes on June 10, and teachers to spend June 11-12 completing final reports.

Summer classes will be held wherever there is a demand. Tuition will be $1 a day for students, or $45 for a nine-week course and $30 for a six-week course.

SUPT. HALL announced the Industrial Appraisal Co. of Pittsburgh has set replacement values on new buildings in the system for insurance purposes. The insurance is written in three master policies, and the additional premium is $8,648 for coverage of Chester Primary, Oak Glen and Weir High. Their re-

Long Weekend For Some

Public Agencies Of Area Slate Memorial Holiday

Public agencies of the Tri-State area, a number of industries and virtually all business will observe Memorial Day Saturday, with some federal offices also closing Friday to make it a three-day holiday weekend.

Because federal employes receive Friday as a day off when a holiday falls on Saturday, the Internal Revenue Service office will be closed Friday afternoon. It normally is open only a half day each Friday.

The Social Security Administration office here also will be closed Friday because of the Saturday holiday.

However, the holiday will have no affect on the Ohio State Employment Service office which always is closed on Saturdays—and state employes do not receive an extra day when holidays fall on Saturday.

Carnegie Public Library and State Liquor stores in East Liverpool and Wellsville will be closed.

The city's banks and financial firms will not be open as it is a legal holiday.

Business will be transacted as usual Friday at the Post Office despite a national agreement with employes' organizations which provides when a holiday falls on Saturday they will receive Friday as a day off, Postmaster Samuel W. Brown said.

No services will be offered at the main office or Station A and Calcutta branches on Saturday, Brown said. There will be no window or delivery service with the exception of special deliveries and perishable items which will be delivered as is customary.

Mail also will be received and dispatched as usual.

City Hall offices will be closed.

The Courthouse at Lisbon will be closed. Some offices will work with skeleton crews Friday, allowing the major seg-

Wellsville Library Sets Summer Hours

The summer schedule for the Wellsville Carnegie Library was announced today by Miss Mary Clark, librarian.

She said the hours will be from noon to 8 p. m. daily, Monday through Friday.

Hours Saturday will be from noon to 5 p. m. The new schedule goes into effect next week.

City Ceremony Saturday

Former Ohio VFW Head To Talk At Memorial Rite

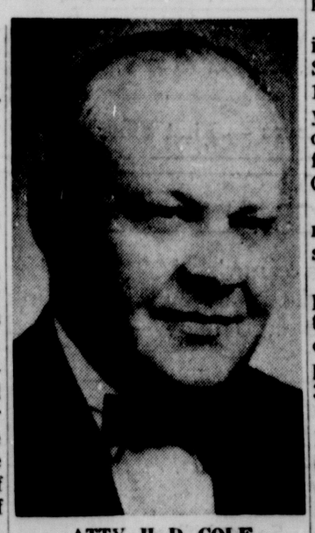

Atty. Howard D. Cole of Lisbon, who will speak at East Liverpool's Memorial Day observance Saturday, is a former Ohio commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

A veteran of World War II, he practices law in the county seat and also serves as a special assistant county prosecutor.

Cole's address at a program in front of City Hall will follow a parade through the business district that will begin at 11 a.m.

Cole was Ohio VFW commander in 1952-53. He had served previously as junior vice commander and senior vice commander and state judge advocate. He was a member of the VFW's national council of administration from 1954 to 1956.

Buses OK'd By Board At Beaver Local

Planned purchase of two 66-passenger school buses was authorized by the Beaver Local School District Board of Education at a special meeting Tuesday night.

The board tentatively awarded a contract to the Columbiana Motors Co. for the two buses, to cost $6,681 each—one with a Carpenter body and the other with a Superior body.

The Columbiana firm was the lowest of seven bidders, the board said, in terms of needed equipment.

Other bidders were Midway Motors of Route 7, Wimmer Motors of East Liverpool, Mackall Motors of East Palestine and O. S. Hill, Lewis Chevrolet and Lehman Ford Co. of Lisbon.

The bids will be sent for approval to the State Department of Education, along with lists of needed repairs on the two buses to be replaced, both 1956 models. Repairs for one would amount to $1,400 and the other over $900.

In other action, the board approved summer music courses at the Public School at a cost of $5 for eight hours of instruction — $4 for instruction and $1 for operating expenses.

The board also approved plans for holding makeup courses at the Public School. The board had originally — in view of the need for cutting back operating expenses—slated discontinuance of the summer program. However, Urban Petros, who is on an 11 - month contract, will teach the courses for no extra faculty expense.

Cost will be $5 for materials and operating expenses. In a caucus session, the board aired contracts to be approved at a meeting Monday night, along with ways and means of district finances.

UAW Rejects Offer Aimed To End Strike

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—For the second time in 10 days members of United Auto Workers Local 425 have voted down a proposal aimed at settling a strike that started May 8 at the Ford Motor Co.'s big assembly plant here.

The vote by show of hands was reported as 658 against and 551 in favor of the proposed settlement. Dave Sparks, international union representative, said some 2,500 of the local's 4,000 members were on hand for the vote at Geoge Daniel Stadium. Union leaders had recommended approval of the proposal.

Police Are Puzzled On Identity Of Woman

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP) — Police admit they are at a loss about identifying a woman whose decomposed body was found on a wooded hillside last Friday.

"This is the first time we have ever been in this position," said Police Chief Upshere White. "We have never been confronted with an unidentified murder victim before." White said the description of Mrs. Donna Scott Goss, 22, Seymour, Ind., matched the dead body closely, but Mrs. Goss had two filled teeth. The dead woman has nine extractions and no fillings.

West German Cited In Spying For Israel

CAIRO (AP) — Franz Huttenmeister, a West German, was convicted today of spying for Israel, sentenced to 10 years in prison and fined $2,400.

Huttenmeister, a 26-year-old student from Cologne, was arrested last November. The government said he had come to contact an Israeli agent and take secrets out of the country.

Urges Amendment

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—By an overwhelming 99-14 vote, the Lebanese Parliament Tuesday night called for amendment of the constitution so President Fuad Chehab can serve another six years.

Idea For The Ohio Bench

Belief that Ohio's judicial system is overdue for overhaul has generated discontent within the legal fraternity for more than three decades. Ohioans can expect to hear about it in the coming year.

Lawyers and lawmakers are dusting off old proposals and adding some new ones which they hope the 106th General Assembly will wrap into a proposed constitutional amendment next year.

A between-sessions judicial administration study involves many facets of the court system, including a bewhiskered but appealing plan for "taking judges out of politics."

THIS PROPOSAL would permit the governor to appoint Supreme Court and Appeals Court judges from candidates recommended by a 10-member, nonpartisan judicial commission composed of lawyers and laymen.

This appointive system also would be available to counties, through local option.

After a six-year term, a judge would stand for re-election by the people. He would be running against his record only, and voters would decide his future on the bench by a Yes or No vote. If a judge were voted out, a replacement would be appointed from the choice list.

There is obvious merit to the proposal, but it wouldn't be easy to sell. Ohio voters rejected a similar proposal by more than a 2-1 vote in 1937, and the legislature refused to place the question on the ballot again only last year.

TO SELL THE plan, proponents would have to overcome the opposition of some attorneys who regard it as a barrier to their own plans for judicial service.

They know they stand a better chance of being elected by people who don't know them than they do of being nominated by colleagues who know them too well.

Proponents would have to convince the people that election of judges is a "right" the electorate is ill-equipped to exercise and voters, therefore, should not be expected to pass judgment on the special qualities needed for judicial competence.

When you consider, however, that nearly half our state court judges are serving by appointment now, the proposal doesn't sound so drastic.

If there is any doubt about the workability of such a plan, Ohioans need only look to Missouri which "borrowed" the idea from an Ohio discussion in the 1920s and has kept it in force ever since.

Business Initiative

Some advice for businessmen of the Tri - State District and rest of the nation has been offered by an Iowa manufacturer chosen this week as the "Small Businessman of the Year."

Berkley W. Bedell, 43, of Spirit Lake, whose firm produces fishing and marine equipment, suggests that the small businessman "realize the opportunity that exists in America; not be afraid, do not underestimate the possibilities for business."

There are some area men who have shown just the awareness and energy which earned for Mr. Bedell his new honor, presented by the advisory council of the Small Business Administration.

Few people not in business are familiar with the competition and complex problems which beset the small manufacturer, merchant and others.

But it is all the more important that these men, engrossed in the details of their operations, remain imaginative and continue their initiative to help themselves and to spur their communities.

Part Of The Challenges

One byproduct of the anti-poverty program already is evident, though the machinery of the program is not in existence.

The country's general knowledge about poverty is being enriched.

A report circulated in the U.S. Department of Labor shows how this is going to come about. It describes a project by Virginia State College to retrain 100 unskilled, unemployed Negro men—typical cases of hard-core unemployment.

The project is being regarded as successful, insofar as it was carried through for an entire year, without the aid of federal interest or the intensive publicity that accompanied the Johnson administration's program.

But the complications growing out of it were endless and monumental, confirming the conception that poverty is commonly an affliction of persons least equipped for coping with life's problems.

People who didn't learn to read and write when their minds were malleable are that much more difficult to teach when their minds are less receptive.

People with no skill to sell in the job market proved to be people with no skill to rely on in the classroom. People who never had pulled themselves to a higher level of learning and living were reluctant to be pulled by others.

When finally they were "retrained"—taught after a fashion to do what they hadn't learned to do the first time—employers looked at them critically, especially if they had been in trouble with the law. Furthermore, the practice of judging applicants by their records proved a handicap. The trainees had no records to show.

Poverty is a challenge. Part of the challenge is going to be to learn enough about it to abandon the notion that spending money can get rid of human inadequacy.

Third Possibility

A problem that never has been solved is being tackled by the New York City police department—how to keep defendants from claiming in court that they were victims of police brutality.

The claim is costliest and most mischievous when it is made for the purpose of discrediting a confession. Nothing frustrates police officials more than bringing a suspect to the point of signing a confession, only to hear later that the suspect claims it was brutally beaten out of him.

New York Police Commission Michael J. Murphy says he is opposed to creating a board of persons from outside the police department to review accusation. A three-member board composed of department personnel exists now.

An opposing point of view is that a board formed of persons outside the police department would minimize allegations of police collusion when accusations of brutality are made and set aside.

Still another point of view isn't being considered at all—the possibility of providing a panel of citizens willing to be called on at any time to witness the handling of suspects by police departments.

Police brutality in most parts of the country is rare. But defense lawyers never miss a chance to go fishing with it, in the hope of catching an advantage for their client.

What would they do with the sworn testimony of a disinterested citizen that he had witnessed every move up to the signing of a confession and had seen no brutality?

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: Time for another round of graduations. Your aunt and I had a picnic at the sugar camp for the local seniors leaving the education works this spring and came out of the experience newly encouraged about the upcoming generation. We have had 10 of these picnics in a row. The kids enjoy them, they say.

Our impressions are better some years than others, depending on how many outgoing personalities turn up in the graduating class in any given year. This was not a vintage year for personalities, but the class adviser assured us it was a vintage year for education.

But after all this time and two million words later, we don't know what education is. Nobody knows. To say that someone has been educated signifies nothing.

We need a better definition of education.

Your aunt and I know people in this locality who never finished high school yet are highly educated by our standards.

We know others who went through college, then spent four more years in graduate study and their minds are closed to everything. We consider them to be trained, not educated.

IT SEEMS to us no one can think of himself as educated unless he is receptive to information. This sounds radical, but it's the way we feel.

Education is not information. It is not mental discipline. In this sense, some people are educable, some aren't. Some heads could be stuffed full of facts but still would lack the discipline to think straight.

We used to talk about this when the German Nazis were beginning to run amuck. Here were thousands of highly trained human minds whose only thought was to destroy. They were trained, not educated, nor were they educable.

Minds may be well-informed. They may have a wide range of knowledge. But unless they can think straight, they are not educated.

What makes this hard to understand is that some people with no formal education —who had no school — possess perfectly disciplined minds. These people are educated, as far as we're concerned.

WE'VE HAD a couple of dogs who never had to be trained. They obeyed because they knew what was wanted of them. We've had dogs that never needed to be housebroken; they knew what was expected of them. They were smart dogs.

We did not hold it against them that they never graduated from dog school. We did not downgrade them for lack of formal education. They were lucky enough to have disciplined intellects without formal education.

That's how we feel about education. If it doesn't make people use their minds for something besides a filing system, the project missed fire.

Accept our regards and cheer up. We consider you to be educable. You discourage us, but you do not frustrate us. You'll do.

Thar's Goldwater In Them Hills!

Bobby Making Some Friends In Labor

By Victor Riesel

There have been gayer garden receptions at Bob Kennedy's Virginia home than the one the attorney general gave the afternoon of May 18. But the somberness was gone. There was laughter in the air and only the fact that the special guests were the nation's most influential labor leaders was unusual.

Victor Riesel

Most of them had never been out to the McLean estate nor had they had the chance to meet as many Kennedys all at once. They were delighted as Jacqueline Kennedy moved among them "poised and adjusted." She shook hands with such men of toil as Maritime Union chief, Joe Curran, Auto's Walter Reuther, Steel's Dave McDonald and, of course, Mr. Labor himself, George Meany.

She charmed the ebullient Dave Dubinsky, Ladies Garment Workers' leader. When he asked about Caroline, Mrs. Kennedy emotionally related how her little son had learned to call himself "John Fitzgerald Kennedy Jr."

AT ONE POINT Bob Kennedy led some of the labor men through the tumbling mass of children, ponies, carts and two dogs toward a recent addition to the old home.

"We had it all built with union labor," he said grinning, "so it's expensive, but it's kosher."

There was serious business, too. Labor's high command had come to present the Kennedys —among whom was Eunice Shriver — with documents and other memorabilia for the John F. Kennedy Library. There was an illuminated copy of labor's statement issued right after the funeral and a film, "Kennedy's Last Word to Labor," made during his speech to the AFL-CIO convention exactly one week before his assassination.

There also will be a $2 million contribution from the labor movement, and Dave McDonald proffered part of it in the form of a $20,000 check from the Steelworkers.

OF COURSE, political overtones and discussions were inevitable. Bob Kennedy wandered over to National Maritime Union president, Joe Curran, and the tall sailor, with uncharacteristic formality said:

"You're no doubt aware of the intense discussion in New York of the possibility of your running for the U.S. Senate."

Kennedy, with arms folded, smiled, looked up at the union chief who had never been a devout "Bobby" supporter and replied that he was aware of the talk and what did they think in New York? Curran replied that the attorney general would find many labor friends there who would be willing to make a fight for him.

Later Kennedy discussed the Senate situation with Dubinsky and one or two others.

Dubinsky, whose energy and braintrusting — along with the activities of his friend, Hatters Union leader, Alex Rose—built the powerful New York State Liberal party, appeared to believe that Mr. Kennedy would make a strong candidate.

THE SENTIMENT was not unanimous. Jacob (Jack) Potofsky, who long ago succeeded Sidney Hillman as president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers Union, dissented.

During a short but intense discussion with some of the other union chiefs there, Potofsky remarked that Bob Kennedy's move into New York politics would be taken as an intrusion and an effort to use the state merely as a power base.

As the AFL-CIO executive council members got back into the five cars which had brought them to Virginia, some of them came away with the impression that the attorney general was determined to run in New York.

Why this feeling? These labor men are sophisticates and realists. They know the meaning of the power structures of the land.

They are aware of President Johnson's sentiments. Some of them know that Mr. Johnson feels that he has the liberal, labor nationality and minority votes with him—and this means the big industrial cities in which the Kennedy name has been political magic.

THERE WAS belief, therefore, among some of the departing visitors that the President would select some one more conservative than the attorney general to attract farm and business votes.

In that event Bob Kennedy will need a political base after 1964. He will not push too hard for the vice presidential nomination, because he will lose the labor people if he does. They are tied to Lyndon Johnson as adhesively as tape to a baseball bat handle.

An open fight between the attorney general and the President could wipe out Bob Kennedy's chances for such a nomination.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

I am writing out of response to feelings I had Saturday when I walked past a store downtown and saw a window display of the late President Kennedy.

I am deeply touched that someone is remembering his birthday which is this Saturday. I have a hurt when it comes to losing for I lost my mother two years ago, and when Memorial Day is observed, I have a little deeper sorrow in memory of the late President.

I loved him as much as a father for he was a wonderful president. God giveth and He takes back, or I should say He lends us these wonderful possessions and sometimes He claims them back before we have time to see why.

But I feel He has his reasons, and know He will give us more wonderful men to serve us.

We shall never forget John Kennedy, perhaps put his name in back of our minds, but I think we shall never forget that terrible Friday Nov. 22, 1963.

Through The Years

John Mackey, junior class president, and Miss Mary Frances McIntosh, junior treasurer, led the grand march at the Junior-Senior prom of East Liverpool High School.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — The Potters Herald, official newspaper of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, received an award of merit at the Eastern Labor Press Association convention at Newark, N. J.

Ernest Polk of Oakland Ave. arrived in Cheyenne, Wyo., on a "hitch hike" across the country.

TEN YEARS AGO — Mrs. Frank M. Kerr was named president of the Catholic Women's Study Club.

Miss Sondra Borger of W. 4th St. won the contralto scholarship award to the Opera Workshop in Pittsburgh, sponsored by the Pennsylvania College for Women.

The Child Counseling Center opened its doors on the third floor of the Odd Fellows building at W. 6th St. with Mrs. Everett R. Chandler of Chester as executive secretary.

Eisenhower's Goal

By David Lawrence

Sen. Goldwater Just Might Fit The Bill

When former President Eisenhower issued a statement on Monday describing in general terms his attitude toward the principles which the Republican party should bear in mind in nominating a candidate, the outline was promptly construed by some critics is being a pattern that the Arizona senator could not possibly fit. Sen. Goldwater himself, however, welcomed the declaration as a "restatement of the basic Republican principles" on which he said he was campaigning.

David Lawrence

A close reading of what Mr. Eisenhower really said would seem to indicate that Sen. Goldwater could accept 100 per cent what Mr. Eisenhower wrote and still be consistent with previous utterances.

Mr. Eisenhower, in his copyrighted article in the New York Herald Tribune, wrote, for example:

"We believe in keeping government as close to the people as possible — in letting each citizen do for himself what he can do for himself, then assistance first on the local government, then on the state government, and only in the final report on the federal government."

THIS IS a philosophy which many conservatives have embraced, including Sen. Goldwater, who once commented that not all the activities of the Tennessee Valley Authority were necessarily the province of the federal government and that some, but not necessarily all, of the facilities could just as well be operated under lease by private enterprise.

Another part of the latest statement by Mr. Eisenhower pointed out that more progress had been made in civil rights during the eight years of the Republican administration than in the preceding 80 years. Mr. Eisenhower said:

"We did this through vigorous executive action, through steadfast enforcement of court decisions and through passage of the Civil Rights Acts of 1957 and 1960 — the first such acts passed since Reconstruction."

Sen. Goldwater on Sunday — the day before Mr. Eisenhower was issuing his statement — expressed his views on this very subject in a television interview with Howard K. Smith on the American Broadcasting Company's program, Issues and Answers. Mr. Goldwater said:

"At one time when I wrote the book (The Conscience of a Conservative) I felt that it was improper for the federal government to intervene in a local school system as far as integration goes. I believe now that this is possible and I believe the machinery is there to do it and I think the criticism I would aim at the attorney generals we have had is that they haven't used the machinery.

"Now they are asking for another law. If this law is needed, fine and dandy. I will go along with it."

SEN. GOLDWATER discussed the pending civil rights bill, and pointed out that too many members of Congress are confusing civil rights and states rights. He added that the Constitution mentions only one civil right, and that is the right to vote.

He emphasized that the states have the right to deal with public accommodations and that 31 out of the 50 states have already done so. He added:

"But they have never turned over to the federal government the power to do this, and the Congress in a very wrong approach in my opinion is using the interstate commerce clause of the Constitution to accomplish this.

"If this is correct, then the federal government doesn't have to ask the states about anything. They can just take the powers over, and we become a centralized government.

"The same thing applies to Fair Employment Practices Commission. This is a prerogative of a state, and I would like to see the states do this. It is their right and the federal government should not take it.

"I mentioned earlier that I had changed my opinion on the states' retaining the right to control elementary education, even in the face of a court order. I believe that an edict from a federal court could end these situations wherever they exist, but this administration has been very reluctant to try and do this. They want more law, and I don't know what other law we can give them."

MR EISENHOWER, in discussing the racial controversies of the day, said there are many matters of the human heart and spirit which "are not always amendable to law."

Close examination of Sen. Goldwater's views and those of former Prewident Eisenhower will disclose that, while there may be some differences of opinion about the application of basic principles, the Arizona senator and the former President are not at all at odds on the importance of a minimum amount of governmental interference in the private affairs of the citizen and on the importance also of proceeding lawfully and constitutionally in dealing with today's controversial issues.

Incidentally, the latest tabulation of the voting in the 10 states in which presidential primaries have been held shows that 1,067,201 persons voted for Sen. Goldwater as the exponent of true Republicanism. This exceeded all the votes cast for Messrs. Lodge, Rockefeller, Nixon and Scranton in those same primaries.

Trade Picture Bright

By Joseph R. Slevin

A big, late-winter jump in imports gave the administration a bad scare, but officials now are recomforting themselves that the upsurge was temporary.

The objection to imports is that they cost dollars, and larger dollar outlays would aggravate the balance-of-payments deficit.

The sharp import rise took place during March, but it was not discovered until the Census Bureau finished compiling the March figures. It will be the end of May before officials find out what happened in April.

The officials have looked behind the disturbing March totals, however, and have come to the reassuring conclusion that the sharp upturn is nothing

Deliveries of foreign merchandise jumped $245 million to $1.592 billion in March. The rise came to 19 per cent and was $78 million larger than the normal increase during the

THE SPECIAL developments were a $31 million jump in coffee purchases and a $21 million increase in sugar shipments. Imports of other foods, including beef, climbed $24 million.

Taken together, the larger food purchases total $76 million and almost completely account for the abnormal $78 million import rise.

The officials find it heartening that they can explain the import jump by nailing it to foodstuffs. Their worry had been that purchases of foreign industrial goods would soar along with booming U.S. business activity, but they see no evidence that the feared expansion is taking place.

The federal analyst points out that imports of crude industrial materials edged up only $32 million in March. Purchases of crude materials account for roughly half of the multi-billion-dollar annual U.S. import volume.

Imports of crude petroleum went up $10 million, while chemicals rose $7 million and rubber increased $6.5 million. Smaller rises were reported for lumber, wood pulp, copper and other materials.

The experts have been puzzled by the failure of other imports to increase during this upturn. They think they now may have some answers.

ONE SIGNIFICANT development is the increasing use of substitute products. U.S. automobile companies rely more heavily on made-in-America synthetic rubber and less on natural rubber, for example. Other industries use plastics and concrete instead of metals.

Prices have been relatively stable here, which has meant less pressure to seek foreign supplies. In addition, U.S. companies have greater capacity than in the past to supply aluminum, copper and other metals. metals.

skin had turned blue and there was no sign of breathing.

The boy was placed at the poolside and the men immediately started mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and artificial respiration.

Meanwhile, the Glenmoor fire department had been summoned and 15 members arrived at the pool with the resuscitator.

Grier, using a technique learned in the Navy but never used in earnest before, continued to give the boy mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. The other rescuers alternated with artificial respiration.

Finally, the rescuers noted signs of life and breathing and thought their battle had been won. Then the boy became weaker and Grier applied the mouth - to - mouth resuscitation again. Firemen administered oxygen at the site and also as the boy was removed to the hospital in an ambulance.

The boy remained in an oxygen tent overnight at the hospital, but was removed this morning.

Board Critic Decides Event Not Political

John P. Jones of New Cumberland, who criticized fellow members of the Hancock County Board of Education May 5 over use of Oak Glen High School for a public meeting on a water question which he felt smacked of politics, took a different stand Tuesday night when the board met in New Cumberland.

Jones declared at the last session that the meeting on possibilities of Pughtown Public Service District receiving federal aid for installation of water and sewage service "was nothing more than a political rally for Rep. Arch A. Moore Jr."

The Clay District member read a letter last night explaining his change of feelings.

"Calmer reflection, and additional facts have come to my attention about this meeting, and I now realize the meeting was not political in character, but rather was a community project in which the people of the Pughtown area of both political parties have a very deep interest," he said.

"I acknowledge that the sole purpose of the meeting was to further the water project with the help of our congressman, and was not politically inspired," Jones said.

The 1st District congressman was asked to appear at the meeting to explain avenues of approach by the village for federal aid for the water-sewage projects.

Rural Mail Carriers Count Beaks, Noses

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's rural mail carriers are counting beaks and noses on their routes.

Officials explained that as the carriers drive along the countryside, they jot down the number of quail, pheasants and rabbits they see.

One Of Those Days When One Forgets

LEOTI, Kan. (AP) — Murle M. Hayden used a pair of pliers and a piece of wire to fish the ignition keys out of his closed and locked car.

In the process the pliers and wire were put on a car fender and forgotten.

Enthusiasm For Big Water Guns Quenched

LIBERAL, Kan. (AP) — Police quenched the enthusiasm of four teen - agers for big water pistols because of their victims' dry sense of humor.

Two men complained to police they were almost knocked down by a stream of water from a passing car.

Police corralled the car and found the four youths using a farm spray gun filled with water and backed by 100 pounds of air pressure.

Verdict Seen Soon In Trial For Robbery

LISBON — A verdict is expected this afternoon or tonight in the case of John Pounds, 33, of Alliance, on trial before a jury in Common Pleas Court in connection with a $90 armed robbery Feb. 27 at Lippiatt's Linoleum Store on Route 62 west of Salem.

Pounds, testifying Tuesday afternoon in his own defense, said he does not know Sam Miner, 32, of Youngstown, indicted for the same holdup. He said he had seen his co-defendant only once previously—in church.

Pounds also denied he was riding in an allegedly stolen truck that police charged was used as the getaway vehicle. Pounds said he had hidden some illegal whisky in an auto agency lot in Alliance and was retrieving the whisky when he saw police drive up.

He said arrival of the police frightened him and he ran, leading to a pursuit in which both he and Miner were shot and captured.

In cross-examination by Prosecutor G. William Brokaw over the objection of defense attorneys, he was asked if he had been in the Ohio Penitentiary with Miner and if he had not served time twice for armed robbery. Pounds answered in the affirmative, but denied he was implicated in the robbery.

Closing arguments were being made this morning to the jury in Judge Joel H. Sharp's courtroom. The judge is expected to give the charge to the jury this afternoon, the last step before deliberations begin.

In testimony earlier, Clarence Lippiatt, owner of the store, described the holdup and four members of the Alliance police department described the capture of the two suspects. Miner will be tried separately. Pounds' trial began Monday.

The jury includes:

C. E. Rudibaugh, Anah Patton, Evelyn Copestick, Samuel Parks, Louise Schaffer and Mildred Weston, East Liverpool; Helen B. Kyle, Edna M. Davis and Bernard Decrow, Salem; Olin Lang, East Rochester; Walter Cooper, Columbiana, and Beulah Goddard, Salineville. Dorothy Shattenberg of East Liverpool is alternate.

Viet Nam

the statement setting the 1965 target date specified that some U.S. trainers probably would have to stay on beyond that time.

That statement was issued by the White House on Oct. 2 after McNamara and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, reported to President John F. Kennedy on an on-the-spot check.

McNamara and Taylor had gone to Saigon at that time to assess possible damage to the anti-Communist cause growing out of repression of the Buddhists by the regime of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

The White House statement said in part:

"Secretary McNamara and Gen. Taylor reported their judgment that the major part of the United States military task can be completed by the end of 1965 although there may be a continuing requirement for a limited number of United States training personnel."

At the same time, it was announced that 1,000 American military men would be withdrawn by the end of 1963.

This was done, even though a military junta unhorsed Diem in the meantime, and the Communists capitalized on the turmoil.

President Johnson sent McNamara and Taylor back to Saigon just before Christmas. Returning, the defense secretary said he had reviewed Vietnamese and American plans for operations in 1964. "We have every reason to believe they will be successful," McNamara stated.

In World War II, he served with the Judge Advocate's Department at Allied Force Headquarters in Caserta, Italy. A native of West Manchester, Ohio, he resided in East Liverpool from 1935 to 1940.

Cole, president of the County Health Board, also is a member of many service and civic organizations.

The program at City Hall will begin 15 minutes after the parade disbands. Mayor Merrill D. Hall will be master of ceremonies.

Sponsors today listed the lineup for the parade. In the first division will be: Police cruisers, VFW Post 66 color guard and colors; Mayor Hall and Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey; Cole, James Cregar, commander of Legion Post 374, and Willis O. Hall, honorary parade marshal; Mrs. Ruby Roush, president of East Liverpool Gold Star Mothers; a vacant car denoting the absence of GAR veterans; Ladies of the GAR; East Liverpool High School Band; Gold Star Mothers Chapter; Navy Mothers Club and Marine Corps League auxiliary.

Third Division: American Legion Post 736; colors and color guard; World War I Veterans from Legion Post 374, VFW Post 66, World War Barracks 2119 and its auxiliary, the auxiliaries of VFW Post 66 and Legion Posts 4, 374 and 736 and Bert Keck, commander of the County Legion Council.

Fourth Division: American Legion Post 4; Legion World War I veterans; 19th Ohio Regiment, Buckeye Blues Brigade; Civil Defense unit; Moose Lodge; 40 & 8 "French boxcar" and fire trucks.

The parade will form at 10:30 on Bradshaw Ave., moving at 11. It will proceed south on Walnut St. to 5th St., west on 5th to Jefferson St., north on Jefferson to W. 6th and east on 6th to the City Hall, pausing while Mrs. Roush places a wreath in front of the Honor Roll Board. The parade then will continue to Walnut St. to disband.

The observance Saturday will begin at 10 a. m. with the traditional program on the Chester Bridge in honor of men who lost their lives at sea. The program will be directed by the Navy Mothers Club and Ladies of the GAR. The Rev. John R. Clark of the First Methodist Church will speak.

House Group Gives OK To Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Add the barebones technique to President Johnson's long list of ways of getting things done.

It served to get the foreign aid bill through the House Foreign Affairs Committee, and it may well get the bill all the way through Congress virtually untouched.

For the first time since the foreign aid program started back in the days after World War II, the Foreign Affairs Committee did not cut even one cent from the total.

Not only that, it added an extra $125 million to jack up the war effort in Viet Nam, making a total of about $3.5 billion for economic aid and military assistance to countries around the world.

A final routine vote by the committee on a clean copy of the bill is expected today to send it on its way to the House floor.

Last year, by contrast, President John F. Kennedy first asked for $4.9 billion for the program. By the time it had threaded its way through the appropriations process it came out at $3.3 billion.

Foreign Affairs Chairman Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., said in past years "everybody looked on this as a padded affair. This is a complete reversal. I think the President took a look at this thing and said he wasn't going through that procedure and run that gantlet."

Mrs. Pandit is governor of Maharashtra State.

Nehru's death urgently raised a question that has plagued India for years — his successor. The strong-willed prime minister held the reins of power firmly and adamantly refused to designate a successor.

A leading candidate has been Lal Bahadur Shastri, 59, a mild-mannered, 5-foot-2 veteran of the ruling All-India Congress party and a close friend of Nehru. After Nehru's first stroke, he summoned Shastri, made him a Cabinet minister without portfolio and put him in charge.

But when Nehru began recovering, Shastri was elbowed aside and his political stock dropped.

Two other political figures generally regarded as possible successors are Home Minister G. L. Nanda and Finance Minister T. T. Krishnamachari.

The Indian constitution provides for the president, normally a ceremonial official, to take over the government on the death of the prime minister.

The president is Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan, an elderly philosopher renowned in world academic circles and a highly respected figure in India.

A state funeral and cremation will be held quickly, in accordance with Indian custom. The Defense Ministry said the funeral procession would start in New Delhi Thursday morning.

If the usual custom is followed, Nehru's ashes will be strewn in the nation's holy rivers, probably at Allahabad, his birthplace, at the confluence of the Ganges, the Jumna and the mythological underground Saraswati River.

In London, Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas - Home said he would fly to India this afternoon for the funeral. Buckingham Palace said Queen Elizabeth II would be represented by Earl Mountbatten, who was India's last viceroy and first governor general and a close friend of Nehru's.

Home Secretary V. Viswanathan said Nehru's physicians attributed his death to "heart attack and shock."

Nehru was born an aristocrat —a Kashmiri Brahmin, or the highest of the high among Hindus. But Gandhi's persuasion and his own compassion for his oppressed countrymen under British rule drove Nehru and his whole family into the independence movement. It meant years in British jails for him and his father, the wealthy lawyer Motilal Nehru, and others in the family.

MISS ALICE GAMBLE
Elkton Girl Is Betrothed.

Alice Gamble's Wedding Will Be Held On July 24

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Gamble of Elkton have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Alice Gamble, to Glendon F. Dowd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dowd of Lisbon R. D. 3.

Mr., Mrs. John P. Burson Return From Honeymoon

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Burson have returned from a Western honeymoon and are residing in East Fairfield following their marriage the evening of May 2 at 6:30 o'clock in the First Church of the Nazarene.

The bride was Miss Linda Newlen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Newlen, 1024 Church St., and her husband is the son of Mrs. Bertha Burson of Rogers and the late Paul Burson.

The Rev. C. G. Schlosser, pastor, officiated for the double-ring ceremony before an altar banked with white carnations, gladiolus, ferns and candelabra. Satin bows marked the family pews. Miss Penny Hendricks was organist and Miss Cindy Wright, soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length gown of French Chantilly lace. The fitted bodice was enhanced with a scalloped Sabrina neckline and long, pointed sleeves. The bouffant skirt fell into a chapel train.

Her elbow-length veil of imported silk illusion was trimmed with Chantilly lace and held in place by a double queen's crown of pearls and sequins. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and satin streamers.

Mrs. Jean Buck, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor and Miss Donna Payne, bridesmaid. They appeared in nylon dresses, the matron of honor in pink and the bridesmaid, in green. They were fashioned with lace jackets, scattered with daisies.

The mother of the bride chose a Navy blue suit with white accessories and the bridegroom's mother, an ensemble of poudre blue with matching accessories. Corsages of pink roses complemented their attire.

MRS. J. P. BURSON
She Was Linda Newlen.

The bride attended East Liverpool High School. Her husband was graduated from Beaver Local High School and is employed by the Kenmar Manufacturing Co. at East Palestine.

Guests were from Wellsville, Cleveland, Dover and Beaver Falls.

Waits Memorable Week

Ohio Coed, 20, Will Be Naval Academy 'Queen'

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—A thrilled Lake Erie College co-ed is busy preparing for what could be the most memorable week of her life. Two days from now she will reign as the U. S. Naval Academy's Color Girl.

The Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., announced Tuesday night that she will be the 92nd color girl in a tradition dating back to 1871. As color girl she will be a central figure in the academy's colorful June week graduation program.

"This is the most exciting moment of my life," the Fairview, Pa., girl said last night from her dorm at Lake Erie when informed of the honor.

She was chosen color girl by Midshipman Ronald Benigo, 25 of Detroit, whom she has been dating the past year and a half.

Benigo is commander of the company judged best of 24 at the academy in year-long competition in academics, military activities, sports and extracurricular activities.

The June week program opens with a parade Friday, and Miss Yates' principal role will be to transfer the national, Navy and brigade colors to a color guard from the 7th company.

Like most of the previous 91 color girls, Miss Yates will wear a special gown and picture hat and carry a bouquet of roses. While the 4,000-man brigade of midshipmen march past in its final parade of the year, she will watch alongside the academy superintendent, Rear Adm. Charles S. Minter.

Wellsville's City Hall offices will be closed. No garbage collection will be made. The crew will make Saturday's collections Monday morning. The men probably will be at least a half day behind schedule the remainder of the week.

Wellsville's Post Office also will be closed, along with the Carnegie Public Library and the city's financial institutions.

Postal officials said special deliveries will be made as usual.

The Hancock County Courthouse in New Cumberland will be closed Saturday, as will post offices in both Chester and Newell.

The state liquor store in Chester said it will be closed all day Saturday and Tuesday. The city's municipal election is Tuesday.

It will also be a three-day holiday for the administrative offices and part of the general offices of the Crucible Steel Co. at Midland.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remedy the frayed cuffs on otherwise good shirts?

A. Try binding these with bias tape. This comes in all popular colors. Start at the opening in the sleeve, sew the tape carefully around the edge of the cuff. Then, when laundered and starched, the cuffs should look considerably better.

Q. How can I keep salt flowing freely from its shaker, even in damp weather?

A. A scant teaspoonful of raw rice kernels in the shaker will do this. Or, put small pieces of blotting paper into the shaker and they, too, will absorb the moisture.

Q. How can I easily remove ink stains from my fingers?

A. Dip a nailbrush or old toothbrush into vinegar, then into salt, and scrub the stains away.

Ohio AFL-CIO Takes Stand To Back Anti-Poverty Plan

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Ohio AFL-CIO has taken a stand to support President Johnson's anti-poverty campaign and has adopted resolutions favoring hospital care for the aged under Social Security and universal application of the 35-hour work week.

In addition, nearly 2,000 delegates at the organization's Fourth Constitutional Convention adopted resolutions Tuesday calling for retirement under Social Security at age 60 and the right to picket on public property. The latter is a reaction to the refusal of James W. Shocknessy, Ohio Turnpike Commission chairman, to permit picketing of turnpike restaurants.

After the hearing Anthony J. Celebrezze, health and welfare secretary, urge passage of the King-Anderson Bill on hospital care for the aged, the convention voted support for the measure.

A letter from President Johnson was read to the delegates. It said Congress can remove "the scourage of inherited poverty from our shores" with the help of labor, industry and local government. On civil rights, the President said the time has come to stop just talking and "to act to put the full protection behind the rights God gave every human being. The pending civil rights bill will be a major step toward achievement."

I. W. Abel, international secretary-treasurer of the United Steelworkers of America, told the delegates that the nation is being pictured as a rich society.

"Yet," he said, "we have the worst poverty and greatest slums society has ever produced."

Telephone Campaign Slated To End Choir Fund Appeal

Hoping to reach its goal of $6,000 for a trip to the New York World's Fair, the East Liverpool High School Concert Choir will conduct a "Phone-a-Thon" Thursday in what will probably be its last major fund-raising project.

Here's how it will work:

It will start at 10 a. m. with a discussion of the trip by Miss Arletta Helfrich, choir director, and Miss Linda Lowers, on WOHI. The radio station will broadcast an appeal for funds every half - hour thereafter for city residents to pledge donations.

Six senior choir members will staff three telephones in the front window of the Frank Crook Co. on E. 5th St. to handle the calls of area residents desiring to contribute for the trip.

The number to call for contributions is 385-4601. If the line should be busy, the call will automatically be transferred to one of the two other phones, so donors have only the one number to call.

Mrs. Harry Dawson, chairman, said anyone downtown may stop in at the Crook Co. store to make donations in person.

The choir's trip fund totals $4,700 presently, and new totals will be announced from time to time as the pledges are made by phone.

The choir needs $6,000 to make the trip to the fair. Miss Lowers is student chairman of the "Phone-a-Thon."

Radio Announcements 'Hard To Clip Out'

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — City Editor Jim Peterson of the Topeka Capital reports in his column, "Street Sounds," of receiving a telephone call from a woman who wanted to give a club notice as a "news item."

"I heard that on a radio program this morning before I came to work," Petterson told the caller, implying she should have called earlier.

"I know," she replied, "but we keep a scrap book and those radio announcements are sort of hard to clip out."

Pastor To Speak At Baccalaureate Of Lisbon Class

LISBON — The Rev. Russell J. Long of the Church of the Nazarene will give the address to over 70 seniors at David Anderson High School baccalaureate services Sunday at 8 p.m. in the high school gymnasium.

He will be assisted by the Rev. Ralph E. Green of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church, who will read the Scripture, and give the invocation and benediction.

Special music will be furnished by the High School Choir under the direction of James Kennedy.

Miss Jodine Pilmer will play for the processional and recessional.

Deaths and Funerals

School Head's Widow Dies

Mrs. H. G. Means, wife of the former superintendent of East Liverpool schools, died Tuesday evening at the Punxsutawney (Pa.) Hospital, following a brief illness.

Mr. Means held the school superintendency from 1929 to 1944.

She leaves a daughter, Miss Winifred Means of Punxsutawney, and two grandchildren. A son, Fenton Means, preceded her in death.

She was a member of the United Presbyterian Church of Punxsutawney.

Services will be conducted at the Jordan Funeral Home in Punxsutawney Friday.

Mrs. May Wynn

Mrs. May Wynn, 633 Broadway, died at 3 p. m. Tuesday at St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Youngstown, following a brief illness. She was 84.

Born at Pomeroy Sept. 22, 1879, she was a resident of East Liverpool for 65 years. She was employed at the Hall China Co. until retiring 15 years ago, and was a member of the St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church. Her husband, Anthony J. Wynn, died May 15, 1954.

She leaves a daughter, Mrs. Bernice W. Dunlope of Arlington, Va., and two grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

The Dawson Funeral Home is arranging services.

Mrs. Albert Stevens

Mrs. Mary A. Stevens of Euclid, wife of Albert Stevens and a former Salineville resident, died Tuesday night at 8 at a Cleveland area hospital after a lingering illness.

She was born at Salineville July 25, 1896, to John Sweeney and Elizabeth Kelly Sweeney and went to Cleveland about 27 years ago.

She was married in 1915. Her husband operated a restaurant at Salineville for a number of years.

She was a member of St. Williams Catholic Church at Euclid.

Besides her husband, she is survived by six daughters, Sister Mary Chaminade, Mrs. Teresa Vratny and Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Kobe of Cleveland, Mrs. Kathryn Leishman and Mrs. Joanne Fox of Euclid and Mrs. Alberta Schultz of Parma Heights; two brothers, Charles Sweeney of Salineville and Joseph Sweeney of Eastlake; two sisters, Mrs. Kathryn Mundy of Salineville and Mrs. Agnes McLaughlin of Akron, and 10 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Friday morning at 10 at the church at Euclid. Burial will be at Cleveland.

John Skavenski

John Skavenski of Lisbon R.D. 1, died at 4:30 a. m. today at Salem City Hospital, where he had been a patient the past week. He was 59.

A former Wellsville area resident, he was born Oct. 21, 1904, in Chicago to Thomas Skavenski and Mary Maze Skavenski and resided in this district for several years.

He leaves four sisters, Mrs. Opert Knepper, Mrs. Michael Volino, Miss Jeanette Skavenski and Miss Agness Skavenski, all of Wellsville, and four brothers, Lewis Skavenski of Chatham, N. Y., William Skavenski of Unity and Henry Skavenski and Thomas Skavenski, both of Chester.

Prayer services will be held at the MacLean Funeral Home in Wellsville Thursday at 8 p.m. by Fr. Gerald X. Curran of the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church.

A Requiem High Mass will be held in the church Friday at 9:30 a. m. with Fr. Curran in charge.

Burial will be in St. Elizabeth Cemetery.

Mrs. Donald Eppers

Mrs. Ann Newdomski Eppers, 43, of Beaver died this morning at the Shadyside Hospital, Pittsburgh, following a lengthy illness.

She was born Nov. 27, 1920, to Mary Sawicki Newdomski and the late Michael Newdomski.

A resident of Beaver for 18 years, she was a member of Sts. Peter and Paul Catholic Church of Beaver.

Besides her mother, who resides in Ohioview, she leaves her husband, Donald Lee Eppers, a son, Robert Eppers, and three daughters, Laura Eppers, Mary Grace Eppers and Lisa Eppers, all at home; two brothers, Alex Newdomski and John Newdomski, both of Ohioview; four sisters, Mrs. Julie Maas of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Carolyn McCoy and Mrs. Frances Mehno, both of Ohioview, and Miss Ethel Newdomski of Los Angeles.

Requiem High Mass will be conducted Friday at 10 a. m. at the church by Fr. Marcus O'Brien. Burial will be in Beaver Cemetery.

Monument Faces Watery Grave

Coin Harvey's Ghost

MONTE NE, Ark. (AP)—Coin Harvey's ghost is going to have to learn to swim.

Within a few months, the decaying monument Harvey built in this Ozark Mountain village will be under 15 feet of water from the new Beaver reservoir.

Harvey predicted that his mountain paradise would be covered with earth by land upheavals after our civilization perished. Instead, it will be covered with water in a $45.5-million project that will provide hydroelectric power and flood control to flourishing northwest Arkansas.

Harvey, a noted lawyer in Chicago and Denver, Colo., became famous in the 1880s with books advocating the free coinage of silver. He was a close adviser to William Jennings Bryan when Bryan ran for president in 1896.

After Bryan was defeated and the Democratic party scuttled the gold question as an issue, Harvey gave up U.S. civilization as a bad deal and moved to the remote Ozarks.

He found a beautiful valley, rich from flowing springs, combined a word of Latin origin with an Omaha Indian word to name the town Monte Ne—Mountain Water.

He built elaborate log hotels on the slopes surrounding the valley. He ran a private railroad from nearby Rogers, brought gondolas from Venice to carry passengers across lagoons from the terminal to the hotels.

In the first years of this century, Monte Ne was a lively place. Well - heeled vacationers came from all over the nation to Harvey's never-never land.

Harvey married his secretary and they lived peacefully above the lagoons. But he couldn't stay out of politics.

Harvey cut into a hillside an astounding stone amphitheater, and the party held its convention there in 1932, nominating the 80-year-old Harvey for president. He got only 50,000 votes, and his disillusionment was complete.

He decided to build a pyramid that would be above the range of the earth movement he predicted would cover the Ozarks. In his plan, the tip of the pyramid would protrude from the rubble with a marker saying "Look below and find the records of a lost civilization."

In the pyramid would be such items as a phonograph, a car, Bible, encyclopedias, histories and a guide book to help the finder decipher the English language.

The pyramid foundation was built, but the structure was never finished. Harvey died in 1936 and was entombed with his long-dead son in concrete beside a lagoon, near the amphitheater.

Army engineers recently moved the tomb to higher ground. It will be on the banks of the reservoir.

Intoxicated Man, 78, Asks, Gets 60 Days

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP) — "Thirty days," said Circuit Court Judge John J. Sullivan Jr. to Michael Gurn, 78, who had pleaded guilty to intoxication.

"Just a minute, your honor," said Gurn. "I don't feel good and I can't walk. I'd like to ask for 60."

The startled judge agreed to revise the sentence.

Step Toward $3 Million

Democrat Fund-Raising Affair Salutes Johnson

By W. B. RAGSDALE JR.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democrats gaily chorused "Once in Love with Lyndon" as they poured an estimated million dollars into the party treasury Tuesday night and heard President Johnson stop just short of declaring what everyone knows: that he plans to be around for four more years.

Republicans were singing another tune.

They charged that career government employes had been pressured into taking part in the $100 - a - ticket Democratic frolic.

The festivities were part of fund-raising efforts expected to net more than $3 million this week for the 1964 Democratic presidential campaign. A re-run of the whole show is scheduled Thursday night in New York.

Some 6,000 turned out for the star-filled "Salute to Johnson" show at the District of Columbia Armory, with 750 persons on hand for the earlier $1,000-a-plate dinner with the President.

No figures were available, but the festivities probably contributed at least the $1 million predicted in advance.

"This show is open to anyone who wants to contribute $100 to the Democratic campaign," he said.

On the serious side, Johnson told the crowd, "This is a significant moment. You are gathering as one Democratic administration draws to a close—and as we prepare for another four years of Democratic leadership."

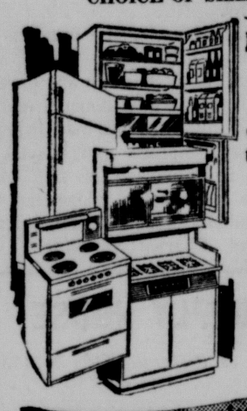

Departing from his prepared text, the President, who never officially has said he will be a candidate next fall, added: "I hope that you are all going to be with me for these years of achievement that are yet to come."

But as an incumbent, he did not view with alarm anything, past, present or future.

Keep that poppy seed, tightly covered in a jar, in the refrigerator and it won't go rancid.

Deaths and Funerals

School Head's Widow Dies

Mrs. H. G. Means, wife of the former superintendent of East Liverpool schools, died Tuesday evening at the Punxsutawney (Pa.) Hospital, following a brief illness.

Mr. Means held the school superintendency from 1929 to 1944.

She leaves a daughter, Miss Winifred Means of Punxsutawney, and two grandchildren. A son, Fenton Means, preceded her in death.

She was a member of the United Presbyterian Church of Punxsutawney.

Services will be conducted at the Jordan Funeral Home in Punxsutawney Friday.

Mrs. May Wynn

Mrs. May Wynn, 633 Broadway, died at 3 p. m. Tuesday at St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Youngstown, following a brief illness. She was 84.

Born at Pomeroy Sept. 22, 1879, she was a resident of East Liverpool for 65 years. She was employed at the Hall China Co. until retiring 15 years ago, and was a member of the St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church. Her husband, Anthony J. Wynn, died May 15, 1954.

She leaves a daughter, Mrs. Bernice W. Dunlope of Arlington, Va., and two grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

The Dawson Funeral Home is arranging services.

Mrs. Albert Stevens

Mrs. Mary A. Stevens of Euclid, wife of Albert Stevens and a former Salineville resident, died Tuesday night at 8 at a Cleveland area hospital after a lingering illness.

She was born at Salineville July 25, 1896, to John Sweeney and Elizabeth Kelly Sweeney and went to Cleveland about 27 years ago.

She was married in 1915. Her husband operated a restaurant at Salineville for a number of years.

She was a member of St. Williams Catholic Church at Euclid.

Besides her husband, she is survived by six daughters, Sister Mary Chaminade, Mrs. Teresa Vratny and Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Kobe of Cleveland, Mrs. Kathryn Leishman and Mrs. Joanne Fox of Euclid and Mrs. Alberta Schultz of Parma Heights; two brothers, Charles Sweeney of Salineville and Joseph Sweeney of Eastlake; two sisters, Mrs. Kathryn Mundy of Salineville and Mrs. Agnes McLaughlin of Akron, and 10 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Friday morning at 10 at the church at Euclid. Burial will be at Cleveland.

John Skavenski

John Skavenski of Lisbon R.D. 1, died at 4:30 a. m. today at Salem City Hospital, where he had been a patient the past week. He was 59.

A former Wellsville area resident, he was born Oct. 21, 1904, in Chicago to Thomas Skavenski and Mary Maze Skavenski and resided in this district for several years.

He leaves four sisters, Mrs. Opert Knepper, Mrs. Michael Volino, Miss Jeanette Skavenski and Miss Agness Skavenski, all of Wellsville, and four brothers, Lewis Skavenski of Chatham, N. Y., William Skavenski of Unity and Henry Skavenski and Thomas Skavenski, both of Chester.

Prayer services will be held at the MacLean Funeral Home in Wellsville Thursday at 8 p.m. by Fr. Gerald X. Curran of the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church.

A Requiem High Mass will be held in the church Friday at 9:30 a. m. with Fr. Curran in charge.

Burial will be in St. Elizabeth Cemetery.

Mrs. Donald Eppers

Mrs. Ann Newdomski Eppers, 43, of Beaver died this morning at the Shadyside Hospital, Pittsburgh, following a lengthy illness.

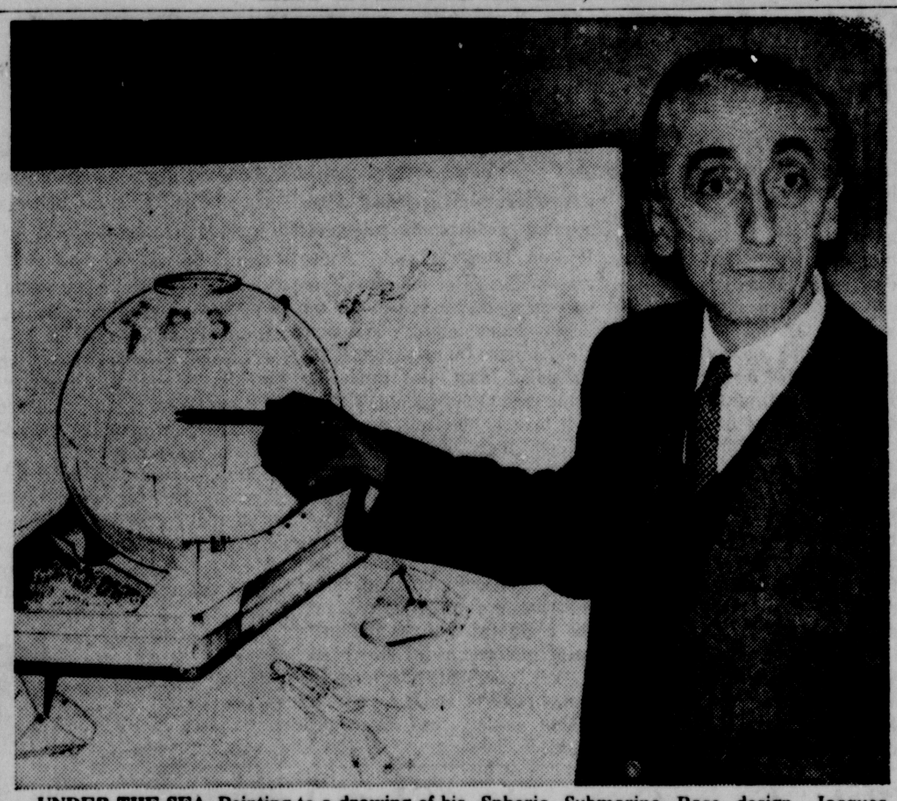

She was born Nov. 27, 1920, to Mary Sawicki Newdomski and the late Michael Newdomski.

A resident of Beaver for 18 years, she was a member of Sts. Peter and Paul Catholic Church of Beaver.

Besides her mother, who resides in Ohioview, she leaves her husband, Donald Lee Eppers, a son, Robert Eppers, and three daughters, Laura Eppers, Mary Grace Eppers and Lisa Eppers, all at home; two brothers, Alex Newdomski and John Newdomski, both of Ohioview; four sisters, Mrs. Julie Maas of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Carolyn McCoy and Mrs. Frances Mehno, both of Ohioview, and Miss Ethel Newdomski of Los Angeles.

Requiem High Mass will be conducted Friday at 10 a. m. at the church by Fr. Marcus O'Brien. Burial will be in Beaver Cemetery.

Friends may call at the J. T. Anderson Jr. Funeral Home in Beaver after 7 tonight.

UNDER THE SEA. Pointing to a drawing of his Spheric Submarine Base design, Jacques Cousteau explains how five men will spend a fortnight underwater on this base. The famous Frenchman is expected to lower his base in Villefranche Bay.

Monument Faces Watery Grave

Coin Harvey's Ghost

MONTE NE, Ark. (AP)—Coin Harvey's ghost is going to have to learn to swim.

Within a few months, the decaying monument Harvey built in this Ozark Mountain village will be under 15 feet of water from the new Beaver reservoir.

Harvey predicted that his mountain paradise would be covered with earth by land upheavals after our civilization perished. Instead, it will be covered with water in a $45.5-million project that will provide hydroelectric power and flood control to flourishing northwest Arkansas.

Harvey, a noted lawyer in Chicago and Denver, Colo., became famous in the 1880s with books advocating the free coinage of silver. He was a close adviser to William Jennings Bryan when Bryan ran for president in 1896.

After Bryan was defeated and the Democratic party scuttled the gold question as an issue, Harvey gave up U.S. civilization as a bad deal and moved to the remote Ozarks.

He found a beautiful valley, rich from flowing springs, combined a word of Latin origin with an Omaha Indian word to name the town Monte Ne—Mountain Water.

He built elaborate log hotels on the slopes surrounding the valley. He ran a private railroad from nearby Rogers, brought gondolas from Venice to carry passengers across lagoons from the terminal to the hotels.

In the first years of this century, Monte Ne was a lively place. Well - heeled vacationers came from all over the nation to Harvey's never-never land.

Harvey married his secretary and they lived peacefully above the lagoons. But he couldn't stay out of politics.

Harvey cut into a hillside an astounding stone amphitheater, and the party held its convention there in 1932, nominating the 80-year-old Harvey for president. He got only 50,000 votes, and his disillusionment was complete.

He decided to build a pyramid that would be above the range of the earth movement he predicted would cover the Ozarks. In his plan, the tip of the pyramid would protrude from the rubble with a marker saying "Look below and find the records of a lost civilization."

In the pyramid would be such items as a phonograph, a car, Bible, encyclopedias, histories and a guide book to help the finder decipher the English language.

The pyramid foundation was built, but the structure was never finished. Harvey died in 1936 and was entombed with his long-dead son in concrete beside a lagoon, near the amphitheater.

Army engineers recently moved the tomb to higher ground. It will be on the banks of the reservoir.

Intoxicated Man, 78, Asks, Gets 60 Days

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP) — "Thirty days," said Circuit Court Judge John J. Sullivan Jr. to Michael Gurn, 78, who had pleaded guilty to intoxication.

"Just a minute, your honor," said Gurn. "I don't feel good and I can't walk. I'd like to ask for 60."

She's Not Amused

WELLINGTON, Kan. (AP)—Mrs. J. C. Smith discovered that one of two decorative concrete eagles on pillars in front of her house was gone. Pranksters who had hauled away the 150-pound ornament left two eggs in its place.

Step Toward $3 Million

Democrat Fund-Raising Affair Salutes Johnson

By W. B. RAGSDALE JR.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democrats gaily chorused "Once in Love with Lyndon" as they poured an estimated million dollars into the party treasury Tuesday night and heard President Johnson stop just short of declaring what everyone knows: that he plans to be around for four more years.

Republicans were singing another tune.

They charged that career government employes had been pressured into taking part in the $100 - a - ticket Democratic frolic.

The festivities were part of fund-raising efforts expected to net more than $3 million this week for the 1964 Democratic presidential campaign. A re-run of the whole show is scheduled Thursday night in New York.

Some 6,000 turned out for the star-filled "Salute to Johnson" show at the District of Columbia Armory, with 750 persons on hand for the earlier $1,000-a-plate dinner with the President.

No figures were available, but the festivities probably contributed at least the $1 million predicted in advance.

"This show is open to anyone who wants to contribute $100 to the Democratic campaign," he said.

On the serious side, Johnson told the crowd, "This is a significant moment. You are gathering as one Democratic administration draws to a close—and as we prepare for another four years of Democratic leadership."

Departing from his prepared text, the President, who never officially has said he will be a candidate next fall, added: "I hope that you are all going to be with me for these years of achievement that are yet to come."

But as an incumbent, he did not view with alarm anything, past, present or future.

Keep that poppy seed, tightly covered in a jar, in the refrigerator and it won't go rancid.

Negro Admits Killing White Bartender, 55

NEW YORK (AP) — "Lynch him. Kill him," shouted a mob of whites outside a bar where a Negro was being questioned about the holdup murder of a white bartender.

The victim was the third white man attacked by Negroes near the western edge of Harlem in five days.

Police had to call in reinforcements Tuesday night to push through the mob to a patrol car with the Negro. They said early today that the man, Alonzo Cook, 20, of Harlem, had admitted the shooting.

He was booked on a charge of homicide.

Police said the bartender, Gerald Esmond, 55, was talking to a lone customer when the gunman entered and said, "Give me your money."

"Are you kidding?" Esmond asked, and was shot twice. The gunman grabbed $40 from the cash register and fled, pursued by the customer.

Esmond, married and the father of one, was well-known in the Vinegar Hill section of Manhattan's upper West Side, a predominantly white neighborhood. A crowd gathered at the bar at 3299 Broadway and the noisiest rattled and pounded on the door, shouting for a lynching.

Last Friday night, L. Carroll Adams, 56, a professor of physical education at Columbia University, was attacked and robbed of $70 by about 20 teenage Negroes.

Adams was attacked at 120th Street and Riverside Drive after he left a Peace Corps meeting. Police captured six of the Negroes, aged 13 to 16.

The next day Prof. John Hazard, 55, of Columbia Law School was attacked by five Negro teen-agers at Morningside Drive and 113th Street. They knocked him to the ground, took his watch and wallet containing about $30 and fled.

Presidential Succession

Congress Wrestles Confusion, End Not In Sight

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is still wrestling with the long-standing national confusion about presidential succession and disability, and the end is not in sight.

Through the years solutions have been offered by the bushel. Congress acted on some, passing laws and changing them. Lyndon B. Johnson's succession to the presidency, leaving the vice presidency vacant, revived the dilemma.

Two former presidents, Dwight D. Eisenhower and Harry S. Truman, and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon have agreed something should be done but not exactly on how. There has been wide disagreement in Congress.

Earlier this year Truman and Nixon suggested the Electoral College elect a new vice president to fill a vacancy in that office. Eisenhower this week had a different idea.

He suggested the president be empowered to name a vice president if there isn't one, provided the man he picks is approved by both houses of Congress.

The American Bar Association had already recommended that procedure be followed through a constitutional amendment. A Senate subcommittee, working on the problem for months, feels the same way.

It was expected to suggest, perhaps today, that this be done. But a constitutional amendment needs approval by two-thirds of both houses of Congress and by three-fourths of the states.

The trouble here is at the start, for while the Senate may approve one plan the House may prefer another. But that is only part of the problem. The other is the question of presidential disability.

How does a vice president take over if a president is disabled, or how does he take over if a president is disabled but doesn't know it or won't or can't admit it?

Eisenhower and Nixon and after them Presidents John F. Kennedy and Johnson had an understanding; there was no law covering this. Now Johnson has a similar agreement with the man next in line to succeed him because there is no vice president, House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass.

Truman had said that once a vice president takes office, because of a president's disability, the president would not be entitled to resume his office if and when he recovered.

But Eisenhower said he had no fear that a vice president would refuse to surrender the presidency — once a stricken president was able to resume it —because, he said, "I think he couldn't possibly get away with it."

Nixon said the arrangements worked out by Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson in case of their disability — letters to the men next in line to succeed them — lack the force of law and would be inadequate if a dispute arose.

Under a law passed in 1947 if the president dies, and there is no vice president, next in line to succeed is the House speaker, right now, McCormack, and then the Senate's president pro tempore, right now, Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz.

The Senate subcommittee is expected to recommend a constitutional amendment covering both the succession to the presidency, explained above, and the problem of disability this way:

When a president says in writing he's too disabled to carry out his job, the vice president would become acting president until the president declared his disability ended.

If the president didn't make his disability known, the vice president with approval by a majority of the Cabinet could declare the president disabled and assume the powers and duties but not the office of president.

If the president disputed this act of his vice president and Cabinet, Congress would have to decide by a two-thirds vote of both houses for the vice president to continue as acting president. Otherwise, the president would resume his powers and duties.

Verdict Seen Today In Suit For $5,000

LISBON — A verdict was expected late today in the $5,000 personal injury suit of Albert D. Green, 1625 Allison St., East Liverpool, in behalf of his son, Albert Green Jr., 7, who was injured in a traffic accident July 18, 1961.

The child was struck by a car driven by Charles G. Griffith, 1184 Oakwood Ave., East Liverpool, the defendant, the petition claims.

The jury, sworn in Monday by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard, is expected to be charged late this afternoon. The jury visited the scene Monday and then began hearing testimony Tuesday.

Cherokee Boy Scouts To Hold Pioneer Camp

Plans for a pioneer camp for Cherokee Boy Scout District Aug. 21-23 at the East Liverpool Beagle Club grounds along the Y. & O. Rd. were made at meeting of the camping activities committee of the district Tuesday night at the American Vitrified Co. offices.

William Rayburn, chairman, said all equipment and food will be carried into campsites by scouts. The boys will not use tents for sleeping.

He said each unit will prepare skits for camp fire programs on a patrol basis. Cooking will be on wood fires. Activities and food for cubs will also be provided.

Shelters will be erected from natural materials, Rayburn said.

Aid Offered For Hancock Farm Drains

Hancock County farmers interested in borrowing a ditching machine to install drain tile in wet areas in crop fields may make arrangements at the conservation office at the Courthouse annex in New Cumberland.

James R. Michael of Wellsburg, Northern Panhandle Soil Conservation officer, said arrangements are being made to obtain the tile - ditching machine for Hancock County the first week of August.

Clark Stewart of Chester, and Charles Huff and Don Glenn of Shepherds Valley near Pughtown are making plans to use the machine. It may be possible to take on additional jobs, Michael said.

The local district has also purchased a new set of round watering trough forms for rent by landowners in Hancock and Brooke Counties. A charge of $4 is made for the use of these forms. The round troughs made with these forms hold 500 gallons. A schedule for their use is posted in the conservation office in New Cumberland.

The conservation service has surveyed the farms of Mrs. John Cook of Washington School Rd., Norman Pryor of Shepherds Valley and Nick Costadi of Kings Creek for development of farm ponds.

County Youth, Autoist Hurt

A Columbiana area youth and a North Lima motorist were injured in a two - car collision on Route 14 about 1½ miles east of Route 7 Tuesday night at 6:20.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said a car operated by James Harold Mong, 17, of Columbiana R. D. slowed for a right turn, and was struck in the rear by one driven by Ralph Isaac Martin, 35, of North Lima R. D. 1.

Both were taken to Salem City Hospital — Mong with cuts and bruises of the forehead and abrasions of the arm and leg, Martin with a cut lip, bruises of the knee and cuts and bruises of the arm and elbow.

Mong's car was slammed against a mailbox, according to officers, who said there was extensive damage to both cars. Martin was charged with failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

ment from the National Defense Education Association.

"Adoption of a new salary schedule for professional employes at a cost for 1964-65 of $27,575 above salaries for 1963-64. This new schedule is comparable to schedules adopted by other districts in the county, and it is hoped Midland will be able to attract better qualified teachers.

"Due to an increase in enrollment two additional elementary teachers are needed at an approximate cost of $9,000.

"In order to give some of our pupils the kind of education they need, a second elementary orthogenic teacher is needed at an approximate cost of $5,000.

"Textbooks, school library books and instructional supplies to maintain a good educational system are budgeted at $26,125.

"Repair and replacement of instructional equipment are estimated to cost $11,320.

"Repairs to the plant which are necessary, will require $10,-287."

The valuation cut of $1,200,-000 annually resulted from the gradual elimination of the machinery tax in the past two years and the budget for 1964-65 will be the final year for this loss. Board members pointed out that despite this loss, the tax rate has held steady for the past two years.

In other action, the board awarded contracts for janitorial supplies for the 1964-65 school year in the amount of $5,112.99.

It also granted the Midland July 4th Executive Committee permission to use various school facilities during the annual celebration, and for the auxiliary of Midland American Legion Post 481 to sponsor a dance revue June 19 in the high school auditorium.

Army Nurse Recruiter Due In City Thursday

Pittsburgh's Army Nurses Corps representative, Capt. Donna M. Ayers, will visit the City Hospital and Army Recruiting Station in the Post Office building Thursday, to speak to area nurses about opportunities in the corps.

Capt. Ayers will be available at the recruiting station for assistance and information to those interested in the service opportunities.

No More Guess Work With Wired Fire Map

ANSONIA, Ohio (AP) — Thanks to a newly wired fire map, Ansonia's 24-man volunteer fire department has become more efficient.

The map, which shows 600 properties in the department's bailiwick, required 4,800 feet of of wire and 300 bulbs.

Fire Chief Garold Oswald said before the map was installed, "Whoever got to the station first took the truck and the rest guessed where the fire was."

British Figure Dies

U.S.-Soviet Consular Pact Announced

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson announced today an historic consular treaty with the Soviet Union and termed the event "a significant step" in building understanding between the American and Soviet peoples.

The treaty, announced simultaneously in Washington and Moscow, will provide for the opening of consular offices in the two countries. It is the first treaty ever negotiated between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Johnson, citing the advantages which he expects this country to receive as a result of the agreement, said that when the treaty takes effect "Americans detained in the Soviet Union for any reasons will be assured of access without delay to American consular officials."

George Reedy, White House press secretary, was asked whether this would apply to any Americans who might be arrested on espionage charges.

"The statement says 'for any reasons,'" Reedy replied.

Johnson said the agreement, which must be ratified by the Senate before it can take effect, will be signed in Moscow on June 1.

Foy Kohler, U.S. ambassador in Moscow, will sign for the United States. Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko is expected to sign for Russia.

In announcing the completion of lengthy negotiations on the agreement, Johnson hailed the treaty as "a significant step in our continuing efforts to increase contacts and understanding between the American people and the peoples of the Soviet Union."

If There's Any Job To Be Filled Ask Paul

MECHANICSBURG, Ohio (AP) From 10:30 p.m. to 6:30 a.m. five shifts a week, Paul E. Wiant is a correctional officer at London state prison. After a 15-mile drive home, he becomes bus driver for Mechanicsburg exempted Village School District.

If some youngsters fail to appear, it's also his job to round them up, as truant officer. Mondays and Wednesdays, he's still another kind of officer, serving as policeman while Chief Cecil Rickard and the other village officer take a day of rest.

Finally, he is ambulance and hearse driver for a funeral home and works with Little League ball players. Despite all this, his wife Maybelle says: "I see about as much of Paul as most wives do their husbands."

Apparently He Likes His Mother's Baking

DES MOINES (AP) — Gerald Levy, an attorney and certified public accountant, figures his mother's tax returns and then sends her a bill for his services.

"Six chocolate chiffon pies, four lemon chiffon pies, and — for extra services — two pineapple chiffon pies."

Future Projects Discussed By Beaver Local's Boosters

Reports on several future projects were heard at a meeting of the Beaver Local Boosters Club Tuesday night in the multipurpose room of the high school near Williamsport. Thirty attended.

She reported on a coin show to be held at the public school June 7. McLaughlin reported on a horsepulling contest July 4. His co-chairmen are Frank Copestick Jr., Dale Rudibaugh, Wayne Rose and Harry Thompson.

The men will be in charge of the refreshments.

Mrs. George Gaydos was named to the unexpired term of Copestick as a trustee. Copestick had resigned to accept the post of vice president.

Mrs. Gaydos said a horse show will be held July 26 at the public school.

William Roberts and Leslie Jones were named to head the fall fair committee. The date will be announced later. An auction will be held in conjunction with the fair with Paul Dailey and Jones in charge.

Jones, a trustee, reported on a meeting of the club trustees, members of the Board of Education and the Athletic Association.

The club voted to purchase basketball court equipment. The project will be handled by William Roberts, Ed Stevens, John Pape and Lee Myers. The courts will be set up at Substation, public school, high school, Rogers, Clarkson, Pancake Corner and Elkton.

Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin served refreshments. The meeting closed for 30 minutes and then was reopened to discuss a proposal of making a gift to the Board of Education for the salary of coaches. No commitment was made.

The trustees will attend the next board meeting Monday night.

All summer meetings will be at the public school the second and fourth Tuesday of each month. Next meeting is June 9.

Dear friends,

Too often a person who has lost a loved one is overwhelmed with visitors for a week or so; then the house is empty. Even good friends stay away, believing that people in sorrow 'like to be alone'.

"That's the 'silent treatment'—there's nothing worse", says one clergyman. "Our friend has not only lost a loved one . . he has lost us too."

Respectfully,

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Alan Wants To Be King Of TV

Alan King, the comic who always champions the cause of the common man, gladly would trade in his mother-in-law to get himself a weekly TV show. Yet recently he turned down the opportunity — for the weekly TV show, that is.

Hal Humphrey

When Ed Sullivan changed his mind about expanding his show to 90 minutes to take up half the Sunday night slack left on CBS after Judy Garland left, Alan was told he could have the spot for a show he and writer Nat Hiken had created.

-:-

"I SAID a final no, because nobody is going to play chess with my life!" Alan shouts, in his usual pugnacious tone.

"It meant I'd be finishing out a season with no guarantee of a spot next season. Also I'd be in against 'Bonanza,' a top-rated show. Who needs that?"

The show which Alan and Nat Hiken (creator of Phil Silvers' "Biklo") have is appropriately titled "Speak Out!" Real people with big gripes bring them to Alan for a sympathetic airing.

"I solve no problems. A guy comes on the show who gets waked up every morning at 5:30 by the garbage men.

"This particular guy already is on his way to solving his own problem. He tells me and the viewers how each morning now he calls up one of the big shots in the sanitation department and shouts over the phone, 'They're here!' the big shot says, 'Who is there?' And this guy says, 'Your garbage men!' "

SINCE MOST of Alan's comedy is based on rebellion against the forces of The Establishment—any establishment—his rapport with the guest gripers on "Speak Out" is complete.

"I've been waiting for 15 years to do a show with Nat Hiken, and this is it. I get to talk, and that's what I like to do. We've got a sign over the door where the guests come in. It says, 'Through This Portal Pass the Angriest People in the World.'

Alan and Nat are negotiating with sponsors and have hope that "Speak Out" will be on TV soon after the first of next year "after some of those other shows bomb out."

Financially, he doesn't need it. For the past five years he has guested on the Gary Moore show an average of 10 appearances a season, and nearly the same amount with Ed Sullivan.

"You'd be surprised, though, how fast they downgrade you in this business," Alan adds. "I don't want to give 'em an excuse for running around yelling, 'Whatsa matter with King that he can't get his own show?' "

Nobody has been yelling such a vile thing yet, because almost every year for the past five Alan has had a TV pilot film for a series making the rounds. The fact none of these has sold is bugging him. Still, it proves, as he says, that "somebody wants me."

HE WAS PAGED by MCA-Universal early this year to be the hero in a projected TV series called "Harris Against the World."

"I would have been a kind of Jewish James Bond, but who needs that?" Alan comments, sardonically. He passed up the part.

Alan appears on Gary Moore's final show next Tuesday, blasting the airlines, doctors, insurance companies or one of his other favorite targets. He brags of Moore's getting threats of 11 different lawsuits to force Alan to change his subject material.

"But Garry doesn't care. He says, 'go ahead, boy!' and I go. You should see the service I get from the airlines now, but I tell 'em, 'Look, this ain't gonna get you anyplace. Do it for the little guy. He's the one who needs it.' Yeah!"

Blue Cross Rates To Be Increased In 12 Counties

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Blue Cross insurance rates to most direct-pay subscribers in 12 northwestern Ohio counties will increase from $1 to $1.35 a month effective July 1, officials announced today.

Also, the Hospital Service Association of Toledo (Blue Cross) has been granted approval by state Insurance Supt. William R. Morris to start an experience-rating program for computation of employer-employe group rates.

The experience-rating system links the rates paid by the subscribers more closely to changing hospital costs and the subscriber's own use of hospital services.

Blue Cross has about 30,000 contracts with direct-pay subscribers covering an estimated 65,000 persons in the 12 counties — Lucas, Defiance, Huron, Seneca, Erie, Sandusky, Paulding, Wood, Ottawa, Fulton, Henry and Williams.

About 435,000 participants are covered under 148,000 group contracts.

In 1947 the State Department reduced the Library of Congress' missing books by one when it returned a German book it had checked out in 1919 for use at the Paris Peace Conference.

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Parents Give Too Much To Children

At practically all economic levels, parents in the United States spend too much of their earnings on the child for other than his physical, educational and moral needs and they give him too much to spend. The more liberally his wishes are supplied the more they grow into increased demands. Think of all the mothers and fathers who have lavished luxuries on their children often at great personal sacrifice only to find these children growing more selfish and ungrateful to them.

Dr. Garry Myers

As a rule, the more sacrifices a parent makes for a child, other than for his needs for physical and moral welfare, the less grateful to his parents this child will grow to be.

The following letter comes from a mother of Long Island, New York: "How does a parent deal with a child who never seems happy with what he has —always is one step ahead of you with what he wants?

"WE HAVE two children—one nine, and the other twelve—the older boy is the one of whom I speak.

"If we take him bowling, he wants to go on to dinner in a restaurant; if we eat out, he then suggests a movie, and so on and so on.

"If he and his brother are permitted to select a toy each —he will pick out something and then come home and play with his brother's toy. He gets an allowance but his desires far exceed what he can afford to buy. He can't accumulate money because he always has a long list of things he wants.

"He is basically a good boy but just once I'd like to hear him say—'Thanks, Mom and Dad, I had a wonderful time' (and no request for anything more)."

My reply in part.

My guess is that in your zeal to be kind and generous with your children you have given them far too much. No matter how much money you have, your children should learn that there are limits to how much may be spent for their pleasures. No doubt your older son has learned that if he brings pressures on you at the right time he can make you do more and more things for his gratification.

YOU SAY HE has an allowance but, obviously, you have not trained him to keep within his means.

Nor has he been trained to adapt himself to a somewhat budgeted plan for the family, as when you take him bowling. Before the family goes on such an outing, you should make clear beforehand the program for the evening; whether, for instance, you all will go directly home or have dinner out, or a movie or both; and then stick to this program.

Chances are that the boy keeps asking you for extra money to spend while you are all out for the evening. You should have trained him to spend only from his allowance then.

Some mothers, taking a child with them for food shopping, may find him demanding one thing after another. These mothers should make clear to the child before leaving home that no extras — or perhaps just one—would be bought for him.

EVEN ALWAYS having one special purchase made for him could cultivate a nuisance habit in him, especially if it is for sweets. When a child keeps pressing you for more luxuries which you grant him even grudgingly, he not only increases his demands, but your relationships with him may become more irritable. This is the way any child may continue to grow less and less grateful to you and more and more selfish in general.

My bulletins, "The Very Selfish Child" and "Allowances," may be secured by sending a self-addressed, U. S. stamped, envelope to me in care of The Review.

Pastor Gives Topic For Use In Baccalaureate Sermon

"What Are You Reaching For?" will be the sermon theme of the Rev. John L. Clark at East Liverpool High School baccalaureate services Sunday at 8 p. m. in Memorial Auditorium.

The program will include reading of the Scripture by the Rev. Pauline Stephens, pastor of the United Brethren In Christ Church, and prayer by the Rev. Edward J. Phinn of the Grace United Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Albert J. Rodenhausen, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will offer the invocation and benediction.

The Concert Choir directed by Miss Arletta Helfrich, supervisor of vocal music, will sing "One World" and "You'll Never Walk Alone."

The graduates will enter and leave the auditorium as the Concert Band directed by Vincent Maola, supervisor of instrumental music, plays the processional and recessional.

The band also will play a brief musical interlude following the processional to permit those arriving late to be seated.

Democrats In Oklahoma Pick Harris

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — Oklahoma Democrats Tuesday night tapped Fred Harris, a 33-year-old attorney, as their man to tackle the pride of the Republicans — ex - football coach Bud Wilkinson — for the U.S. Senate.

Harris swamped incumbent Sen. J. Howard Edmondson, whose meteoric rise in politics was cut short by sudden and overwhelming defeat.

Even more surprising was the victory of under-aged Jed Johnson over 6th District Rep. Victor Wickersham, an 18-year veteran of the lower chamber. The minimum age for a congressman is 25—and Johnson won't be that old until December.

Harris received 270,928 vote to 172,785 for Edmondson with all but a handful of the state's 3,044 precincts still out.

Johnson, who just barely won a runoff spot against Wickersham after the May 5 primary, had 42,185 votes to 40,973 for Wickersham with all precincts reported.

Harris' stunning triumph was the climax to a bitter campaign.

Wilkinson, the Republican glamour candidate who turned to politics from a career as Oklahoma football coach, commented after Harris' victory that he hopes for a fall campaign based on issues rather than personalities.

Harris, a state senator and Lawton attorney, ran 5th in a field of 12 for the Democratic nomination for governor in 1962.

Edmondson's defeat in the Senate race was almost as great as his victory when he was elected governor in 1958. He resigned about a week before his term was to expire to accept a two - year appointment to the Senate after the death of Robert S. Kerr.

It is the final two years of Kerr's term which is involved in the current campaign.

Harris carried 74 of Oklahoma's 77 counties, missing out by only eight votes in Edmondson's home county, Muskogee, and in Cherokee and Adair counties.

Legion Elects Sam Maylone At Wellsville

Maylone succeeds Harry Excell. The election was conducted Monday, with the polls closing at 8 p. m.

Maylone is a former commander of the post, having served two terms from 1951 to 1953. A resident of 18th St. Heights, he is employed in the office at the Patterson Industries in East End.

Other officers named were Don Brewer, first vice commander; Harry Crawford, second vice commander; Francis House, adjutant; Elvie McDevitt, finance officer; George Woods, chaplain; Daun Gitschier, William Boyce and Mel Gitschier, sergeants-at-arms, and Don Henthorne, three-year trustee.

This is the fifth consecutive term for House as adjutant.

The new officers will be seated Monday night at 8. J. V. Hughes, county finance officer, will be the installing officer. Refreshments will be served.

Robert Beresford reported on the carnival held last week. He and Henthorne were co-chairmen.

He also reported on the remodeling of the kitchen. The work is almost complete.

George Woods, a teacher at Stanton Local School, read an essay by one of his students, entitled "Why I dislike Prejudice."

Boyce reported on the Tri-State Softball League that has been formed.

JFK Stamps Due At Wellsville, Chester Offices

Postmasters at Wellsville and Chester have announced preparations for the sale of the John F. Kennedy Memorial commemorative stamps Friday.

A bulk order of 20,000 will go on sale Friday morning at 8:30 at the Chester Post Office, Postmaster Robert Edwards announced today.

"We will have ample stamps for the public," Edwards said. The first 20,000 stamps arrived this morning.

Anticipating a great demand for the commemorative stamps, Edwards said he has ordered another 20,000.

The Wellsville Post Office has 10,000 of the stamps for sale Friday morning.

The date also marks the 47th birthday anniversary of the late President.

Postal officials are expecting a great demand for the stamp. Wellsville doubled its usual amount.

East Liverpool post offices will have 20,000 of the stamps and an order has been placed for 20,000 more.

Mikoyan Back Home, Fails For Jap Accord

TOKYO (AP) — Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan returned home today without agreement on two major proposals he brought from Premier Khrushchev.

The Japanese balked on conclusion of a World War II peace treaty because the Soviets refused to return several islands off northern Japan. They made agreement to joint efforts for a total nuclear test ban conditional on Soviet acceptance of an effective policing system.

Two weeks of discussion also failed to produce agreement on a Tokyo-Moscow airline.

Value Increases As You Get Older

Memory Becomes Richer

NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is one thing in life that increases in value as you get older.

The more you have to remember the richer you are, and the longer you live the more worthwhile things you have to recall—if you've had any luck at all.

You've had your fair share of nostalgia if you can look back and remember when—

Spinach was the vegetable bane of childhood, because parents said, "It's full of iron—and iron is good for you."

The dentist was pleased if you brushed your teeth at night and morning. Even most rich people didn't bother to brush after every meal.

There was a difference between masculine and feminine realms of power. Mother was the expert on anything pertaining to the house, father was the unchallenged authority on such matters as baseball, politics and the tariff.

There was no greater thrill than getting to feed a carrot to one of the great gray horses that pulled the fire department's hook and ladder wagon.

If you were trusted to go outside and beat the dust from the blackboard erasers, all your envious schoolmates called you "Teacher's pet!"

Medicine, if it was to do you any real good, had to taste bad—and it usually was colored dark brown.

Golf and tennis were both regarded as sissy games played largely by well-to-do people who weren't physically up to the wear and tear of body contact sports.

Hospitals were feared by most persons. They were regarded as places where you went to die rather than to get well.

Anybody who got his car up to more than 60 miles an hour was considered a reckless daredevil.

Teen-agers screamed almost as loudly over the singing of a beanpole kid named Frank Sinatra as they do now over the music of England's four hairy Beatles.

People of 40 were thought of as old but still employable.

Only the very wealthy worried about the income tax. The working man who got a full week's paid vacation a year felt he was fortunate. And only sick people ever were put on diets.

Those were the days. Remember?

The Rev. I. Melville Whorley of the East Fairfield Methodist Church will be guest speaker at the dinner at which Jim Evans, senior high school graduate, will be recognized.

Mrs. Harold Dixon held a surprise kitchen shower Monday night for Mrs. Esther Armstrong, who will move to Salem Saturday. Fifteen attended.

Mrs. Nett Wolf has returned from a visit with her daughter, Mrs. George VanHorne, near West Point. Mrs. Wolf was ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Harrold have returned from a short trip in Virginia and West Virginia.

County 4-H Camp Slated

LISBON — With schools dismissing for summer vacations, Columbiana County 4-H Club members' thoughts are turning to the summer camp.

This year's will take place at Camp Aldersgate, Leesville Lake, June 14-17 for 12-14-year-olds. The fee will be $10, which includes meals, lodging and insurance.

The camping program consists of various crafts, special educational programs, vespers and recreation periods, including swimming. As a feature this year, Prof. John Hacskaylo of the Ohio Experiment Station will work with the 4-H members interested in forestry and conservation.

Twelve older 4-H members have been selected to serve as counselors. They are:

Brenda Wilhelm, Joyce Whinnery and Ron Sanor, Salem; Elaine Hahn, Bonnie Fleming and Ramon Hahn, Homeworth; Linda Converse and Gayle Bartholow, Leetonia; Janet Jenkins, Rogers; Barbara Schoeni, Beloit; Bill Hayes, Salineville, and Robert Crosser, Lisbon.

All 4-H members who desire to attend summer camp are reminded by Robert B. Lewis, county extension agent in 4-H work, to make their reservations in to the County Extension Service office by June 4.

Referee Of Peru Soccer Game Mourns For Week

"Then I want to see my priest," said Angel Eduardo Pazos. "I want to be sure the fault wasn't mine, like some Lima newspapers are saying. It has been so terrible.

"But I will remain a referee," added Pazos, 38, a metal worker who officiates at soccer games in his spare time.

Argentina's team was leading Peru's 1-0 in the pre-Olympic game in Lima Sunday when Pazos disalowed a Peruvian score because a Peruvian player had committed a foul. A spectator jumped onto the field and ran toward Pazos.

Police dragged the man off, but other fans poured onto the field and Pazos called off the game. Rioting began.

"The police had to use tear gas because the water hoses didn't work," Pazos said.

A frenzied push for the exit gates began, but four of the seven at the north end of the stadium were locked. Body upon body was crushed against the barriers. Those who fainted or stumbled were trampled. There were 328 dead and hundreds more injured — the sports world's greatest tragedy.

Peruvian authorities disclosed Tuesday that three of the dead were policemen killed by the mob. Rioters strangled a sergeant with his own necktie. An officer who tried to save him was thrown from the stadium wall to his death 50 feet below. A third policeman was thrown into the path of stampeding spectators and was trampled.

Pazos said he couldn't understand why the stadium gates were closed.

"Fifteen minutes before the game was to end, the gates to the stadium were open," he said. "Then they were closed. This doesn't make sense."

Crying as he talked, Pazos said, "I was correct in my call. There was no mistake. I called the game by the rules."

"An excellent referee, an all-around athlete, one hundred per cent honest," said the Montevideo newspaper El Pais.

2 Men Seen Eligible In Medina Postal Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Service Commission says two men are eligible for the Medina, Ohio postmastership.

They are Maynard B. Pelton, now acting postmaster, and Michael S. Klimko. Either may be nominated by President Johnson for the $7,650 a-year job the commission said Tuesday. A third man, Andrew F. Klimko also has applied for the job.

SOME WISDOM ABOUT WISDOM TEETH

Early removal of unerupted or impacted third molars, the "wisdom" teeth, reduces the chances of gum infections and loss of other molars. The inflammation of the gum from such a tooth may spread into a serious infection and the incidence of this type of infection increases with age.

Value Increases As You Get Older

Memory Becomes Richer

The more you have to remember the richer you are, and the longer you live the more worthwhile things you have to recall—if you've had any luck at all.

You've had your fair share of nostalgia if you can look back and remember when—

Spinach was the vegetable bane of childhood, because parents said, "It's full of iron—and iron is good for you."

The dentist was pleased if you brushed your teeth at night and morning. Even most rich people didn't bother to brush after every meal.

There was a difference between masculine and feminine realms of power. Mother was the expert on anything pertaining to the house, father was the unchallenged authority on such matters as baseball, politics and the tariff.

There was no greater thrill than getting to feed a carrot to one of the great gray horses that pulled the fire department's hook and ladder wagon.

If you were trusted to go outside and beat the dust from the blackboard erasers, all your envious schoolmates called you "Teacher's pet!"

Medicine, if it was to do you any real good, had to taste bad —and it usually was colored dark brown.

Golf and tennis were both regarded as sissy games played largely by well-to-do people who weren't physically up to the wear and tear of body contact sports.

Hospitals were feared by most persons. They were regarded as places where you went to die rather than to get well.

Anybody who got his car up to more than 60 miles an hour was considered a reckless daredevil.

Teen-agers screamed almost as loudly over the singing of a beanpole kid named Frank Sinatra as they do now over the music of England's four hairy Beatles.

People of 40 were thought of as old but still employable.

Only the very wealthy worried about the income tax. The working man who got a full week's paid vacation a year felt he was fortunate. And only sick people ever were put on diets.

Those were the days. Remember?

Church In Elkton Will Give Dinner

A Family Night coverdish dinner of the Elkton Methodist Church will be held at the Elkton School June 7 at 6:30 p.m.

The Rev. I. Melville Whorley of the East Fairfield Methodist Church will be guest speaker at the dinner at which Jim Evans, senior high school graduate, will be recognized.

Mrs. Harold Dixon held a surprise kitchen shower Monday night for Mrs. Esther Armstrong, who will move to Salem Saturday. Fifteen attended.

Mrs. Nett Wolf has returned from a visit with her daughter, Mrs. George VanHorne, near West Point. Mrs. Wolf was ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Harold have returned from a short trip in Virginia and West Virginia.

County 4-H Camp Slated

LISBON — With schools dismissing for summer vacations, Columbiana County 4-H Club members' thoughts are turning to the summer camp.

This year's will take place at Camp Aldersgate, Leesville Lake, June 14-17 for 12-14-year-olds. The fee will be $10, which includes meals, lodging and insurance.

The camping program consists of various crafts, special educational programs, vespers and recreation periods, including swimming. As a feature this year, Prof. John Hacskaylo of the Ohio Experiment Station will work with the 4-H members interested in forestry and conservation.

Twelve older 4-H members have been selected to serve as counselors. They are:

Brenda Wilhelm, Joyce Whinnery and Ron Sanor, Salem; Elaine Hahn, Bonnie Fleming and Ramon Hahn, Homeworth; Linda Converse and Gayle Bartholow, Leetonia; Janet Jenkins, Rogers; Barbara Schoeni, Beloit; Bill Hayes, Salineville, and Robert Crosser, Lisbon.

All 4-H members who desire to attend summer camp are reminded by Robert B. Lewis, county extension agent in 4-H work, to make their reservations in to the County Extension Service office by June 4.

Referee Of Peru Soccer Game Mourns For Week

"Then I want to see my priest," said Angel Eduardo Pazos. "I want to be sure the fault wasn't mine, like some Lima newspapers are saying. It has been so terrible.

"But I will remain a referee," added Pazos, 38, a metal worker who officiates at soccer games in his spare time.

Argentina's team was leading Peru's 1-0 in the pre-Olympic game in Lima Sunday when Pazos disalowed a Peruvian score because a Peruvian player had committed a foul. A spectator jumped onto the field and ran toward Pazos.

Police dragged the man off, but other fans poured onto the field and Pazos called off the game. Rioting began.

"The police had to use tear gas because the water hoses didn't work," Pazos said.

A frenzied push for the exit gates began, but four of the seven at the north end of the stadium were locked. Body upon body was crushed against the barriers. Those who fainted or stumbled were trampled. There were 328 dead and hundreds more injured — the sports world's greatest tragedy.

Peruvian authorities disclosed Tuesday that three of the dead were policemen killed by the mob. Rioters strangled a sergeant with his own necktie. An officer who tried to save him was thrown from the stadium wall to his death 50 feet below. A third policeman was thrown into the path of stampeding spectators and was trampled.

Pazos said he couldn't understand why the stadium gates were closed.

"Fifteen minutes before the game was to end, the gates to the stadium were open," he said. "Then they were closed. This doesn't make sense."

Crying as he talked, Pazos said, "I was correct in my call. There was no mistake. I called the game by the rules."

"An excellent referee, an all-around athlete, one hundred per cent honest," said the Montevideo newspaper El Pais.

2 Men Seen Eligible In Medina Postal Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Service Commission says two men are eligible for the Medina, Ohio postmastership.

They are Maynard B. Pelton, now acting postmaster, and Michael S. Klimko. Either may be nominated by President Johnson for the $7,650 a-year job the commission said Tuesday. A third man, Andrew F. Klimko also has applied for the job.

Long Debate Forecast

Physician Hits Medicare Plan In Rotary Club Talk

Predicting a long summer of debate in Washington on the issue of a federal-controlled plan of compulsory health care for the aged, a representative of the American Medical Association described the King - Anderson Bill (Medicare) as a "trick" or "magic" in addressing the Rotary Club Tuesday in the Travelers Hotel.

"It's a trick because people aren't being told the truth," Dr. Jack Schreiber of Canfield, a member of the AMA's Speakers' Bureau, asserted.

He explained the King-Anderson Bill is a proposal which would provide certain limited hospital and nursing home care benefits to everyone over the age of 65, financed by a new, double payroll tax levied under the Social Security program. It would be controlled by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The cost for a man who earns $100 a week, the average wage across the country, he said, will be $27.50 a year instead of $12 "as promised by the President." "The employer matches this cost so that we have a total payroll tax of $55 the first year alone—or a 16 per cent increase in taxes," he said.

"And this is just the beginning. The cost of this kind of welfare is unlimited, unpredictable and staggering. I submit that we can't afford the tariff on the inevitable extension of this plan any more than we can afford to pick up the grocery bill for everybody over 65. The Social Security Tax is already scheduled to go to 9¼ per cent by 1968, and that's without 'fedicare'," he said.

DR. SCHREIBER disputed the administration's claim that "retired folks in this country are poor, and they can't take care of themselves."

"The facts are that while the over-65 group makes up about 9 per cent of the total population, they receive 8 per cent of the nation's income; the assets of the retired are twice as high as all the rest of the people," he said. Senior citizens, he continued, are meeting their needs and are able to provide for themselves for the most part and are doing so.

A Canfield physician spoke against any change in the set-up of the Social Security system.

"What's being proposed in a change in the rules. Social Security as it was written in 1935 and now exists, pays dollars to the retired, no strings attached. But if the rule changers have their way, Social Security will, in the future, provide services instead of dollars.

RIGHT NOW it is so - called medical care, but once you've changed the basic principle of Social Security, you can make it food, clothing, shelter, television sets, or whatever whim Congress might hold at the moment," he said.

Through the Social Security mechanism, he said medical services would be given to everybody, every man and woman 65 and over, covered or not by Social Security, those who are wealthy, those who are poor, those who need help and those who are self - supporting.

"For the first time in the history of this country, we're toying with the idea of providing a welfare program to everybody on the sole basis that he's had a birthday rather than the fact that he needs help," Dr. Schreiber declared.

He asked: "Is it in keeping with our way of government to tax one segment of the population to provide 'free anything' to another segment — especially when this 'free anything' is unearned?"

"WE FEEL strongly that the quality of medical care will deteriorate under a politically - controlled, federally financed, compulsory scheme which places supreme importance on the cost rather than the quality of medical care," he said. He added that according to 39 congressional polls, the feeling is running 2-to-1 against "fedicare."

"This proposal has been improperly called 'Medicare,' when this isn't medical care at all, it's institutional care. King-Anderson doesn't pay the doctor, doesn't provide for drugs purchased at the corner drugstore, or pay for eyeglasses, false teeth or hearing aids, or appliances or things which the older person needs most," he asserted.

DR. SCHREIBER said "as a matter of record, 'fedicare' covers only about 25 per cent of all health care needs."

Pointing out the King-Anderson Bill would start off with a $35 billion debt, Dr. Schreiber said the working man under 65 is going to have to help pay off the debt while the 18 million people now 65 and over won't pay one nickle in taxes towards their own health care.

"Besides this, our working man has also to pay increased taxes to provide for those reaching 65 before he does, and all the while, for the next 20 years, he must pay on the house, car, television and raise and educate his children and pay for his own and his family's health care."

"WILL HE benefit? All he has is a promise — no guarantee — just a promise that when he reaches 65, he will get his, that is if his children and grandchildren are willing and able to pay the tax, which by then may well have reached the level it has in many European countries, 35 to 40 per cent of the payroll dollar."

President of the Mahoning County Medical Society, the speaker said the real issue isn't medical care or no medical care for the aged citizens, but is one of "centralization of government."

Implying it would lead to socialized medicine, he said, "The No. 1 question of our day is how much government is too much." "Someone once said, "'too little government and your neighbor steals your strawberries, too much government and the government steals your strawberries'."

DR. SCHREIBER spoke in support of the Kerr-Mills Law, which enables the individual states to guarantee to every aged American who needs help the health care he requires. It was passed by the Congress in 1960 and is financed by federal-state matching funds. The law is working in 41 states and four jurisdictions and ready to go into another two states by July, the physician said.

Concluding, Dr. Schreiber said the issue "isn't are we going to provide medical care to the aged, but rather it's are we going to preserve our individual freedom?" He asked club members to apply Rotary's four-way test to the King-Anderson Bill and learn about the facts.

Dr. Schreiber, an amateur magician, used several magic acts to illustrate his points during the address. He was introduced by Dr. C. A. Gerace, program chairman. Ralph A. Finley, president, presided. There were several visitors, including local physicians.

He added that according to 39 congressional polls, the feeling is running 2-to-1 against "fedicare."

"This proposal has been improperly called 'Medicare,' when this isn't medical care at all, it's institutional care. King-Anderson doesn't pay the doctor, doesn't provide for drugs purchased at the corner drugstore, or pay for eyeglasses, false teeth or hearing aids, or appliances or things which the older person needs most," he asserted.

DR. SCHREIBER said "as a matter of record, 'fedicare' covers only about 25 per cent of all health care needs."

Pointing out the King-Anderson Bill would start off with a $35 billion debt, Dr. Schreiber said the working man under 65 is going to have to help pay off the debt while the 18 million people now 65 and over won't pay one nickle in taxes towards their own health care.

"Besides this, our working man has also to pay increased taxes to provide for those reaching 65 before he does, and all the while, for the next 20 years, he must pay on the house, car, television and raise and educate his children and pay for his own and his family's health care."

"WILL HE benefit? All he has is a promise — no guarantee — just a promise that when he reaches 65, he will get his, that is if his children and grandchildren are willing and able to pay the tax, which by then may well have reached the level it has in many European countries, 35 to 40 per cent of the payroll dollar."

President of the Mahoning County Medical Society, the speaker said the real issue isn't medical care or no medical care for the aged citizens, but is one of "centralization of government."

Implying it would lead to socialized medicine, he said, "The No. 1 question of our day is how much government is too much." "Someone once said, "'too little government and your neighbor steals your strawberries, too much government and the government steals your strawberries'."

DR. SCHREIBER spoke in support of the Kerr-Mills Law, which enables the individual states to guarantee to every aged American who needs help the health care he requires. It was passed by the Congress in 1960 and is financed by federal-state matching funds. The law is working in 41 states and four jurisdictions and ready to go into another two states by July, the physician said.

Concluding, Dr. Schreiber said the issue "isn't are we going to provide medical care to the aged, but rather it's are we going to preserve our individual freedom?" He asked club members to apply Rotary's four-way test to the King-Anderson Bill and learn about the facts.

Dr. Schreiber, an amateur magician, used several magic acts to illustrate his points during the address. He was introduced by Dr. C. A. Gerace, program chairman. Ralph A. Finley, president, presided. There were several visitors, including local physicians.

Memorial Day Aired For Fairview Grange

Rockefeller Sees Door Open For California Victory

By JACK BELL

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller apparently believes he has welded a responsibility key that will unlock the doors to victory in California's vital Republican presidential primary next Tuesday.

The New York governor has tossed overboard the underdog role he played expertly in winning the May 15 Oregon primary. In that contest he damaged beyond practical repair the potential candidacy of U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

Rockefeller now is reported highly confident he can handily defeat Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., in next week's voting and thus blight the Arizona conservative's burgeoning drive for the 655 convention votes needed for the presidential nomination.

Rockefeller's public prediction that if he wins California's 86 votes in Tuesday's balloting he will have 400 convention votes on the first ballot is privately chalked up in his own camp as a booboo.

Even if he can field all of New York's 92 votes—of which there is some doubt—Oregon's 18 and California's 86 would give him just 196. He probably would go over the 200 mark but would still be a distant second to Goldwater on the first countdown at the San Francisco meeting.

But his victory in Oregon and his confidence that he can win in California have restored the governor's obviously faltering faith—which he never conceded publicly—that he could win the nomination for himself.

Nobody around him was willing to admit it aloud, but until Oregon came along and California began to look good, the Rockefeller operation was regarded by the political pros as little more than a desperate effort to stop Goldwater.

The pros are not ready quite yet to go along, but Rockefeller's people are talking optimistically of getting the nomination for their candidate. They are bearing down on the point that the governor really believes he can beat President Johnson in November. They are suggesting that Goldwater and some other potential nominees have no such faith in their prowess.

Rockefeller told a Young Republican audience in the swank Beverly Hilton Hotel Tuesday night that the issue in his head-on battle with Goldwater is "whether the Republican party is going to move forward in the mainstream of public life or whether it will pull off into a small eddy, pulled there by a small minority in the party."

Rockefeller got polite but not exactly enthusiastic applause when he said that Goldwater—"my competitor or whatever you call him"—does not stand within the framework of Republican responsibility as defined by (former) President Eisenhower."

82 Seek Posts In Midland Steel Union

Eighty - two members of Midland Steelworkers Local 1212 have been placed on the ballot for the June 11 election of officers in the union of Crucible Steel Co. production workers.

After approval by the union, candidates drew for ballots places Sunday.

There are four candidates for president, including the incumbent, Harry Petrosky, and three candidates for vice president.

Petrosky will be faced by Alfred Monaco, now financial secretary, Steve Luketich and Joe D'Alesio, a past president.

Four new candidates seeking the office of recording secretary, as incumbent, Tom Gallagher, is a candidate for financial secretary. Seeking the position are Al Lona, Donald Hancock, George Bradshaw and John Uccellini.

Opposing Gallagher will be Pete Vuckovich, present treasurer, and Sam Kukich and Bill Buck.

Candidates for treasurer are Mark Trough, Joe DiCiccio, Lester D. Barr, Peter J. Benedict and Nick Kleich.

After the office of compensation man will be Andy Sopko, Carl Lacey, William R. Davis, Pete Sinneway and George Huha, Jr.

Raymond Robinson, Joseph Scheibner, Bill Newtz and Ray Wagnor are seeking the office of guide, while candidates for inside guard are Willie Dunn, Frank Dapollonia, Richard Felkey and Vic Dray.

Sixteen are seeking the three trustee posts, including incumbents, Raymond Presutti and Joe Wirang, and Waldo Adkins, who is now serving as guide.

Balloting will be conducted at the Steelworkers Hall June 11 from 6:30 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Crews Continue Wellsville's City Cleanup Project

Summer cleanup work is continuing in Wellsville, Safety-Service Director Fred Baldasare said today.

Even the City Hall has been given a face-lifting. The windows and doors on the first floor have been painted and refinished.

The roads in Springhill Cemetery were slagged Monday and rolled Tuesday. The cemetery will be ready for Memorial Day services Saturday, the director commented.

The city's litter cans are being collected for repairs and painting in the basement at City Hall.

The fence at the 13th St. park has been painted and the fountains in Broadway Park have been turned on.

The park benches have been repainted and set out along Riverside Ave.

Kiwanians Fete 10 Top Seniors At Oak Glen High

Ten top honor students at Oak Glen High School were feted by the Chester Kiwanis Club at a dinner Tuesday night at the City Hall auditorium.

The Rev. Jerry Deitch of the Pughtown Christian Church spoke. He urged a seeking of harmony, vision, action, perseverance and the ingenuity for facing the complex issues of our times.

Alvin Fineman and R. M. McFarland also took part in the program.

Killed In Collision

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Emma Scott, 68, of Portsmouth, was killed and her husband, Herbert, 69, was seriously injured Tuesday when their automobile collided with a log truck on Ohio 140 two miles east of South Webster.

From $315 To $324 Billion

House Unit Voices OK For Debt Ceiling Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

DEBT LIMIT: The House Ways and Means Committee has voiced swift approval of an administration proposal to hike the temporary debt limit from $315 billion to $324 billion and a key Republican opponent says he plans no attempt to cut the increase on the House floor.

Following Tuesday's action, the committee's ranking Republican, Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin said no attempt was made to cut the increase in the committee, and he plans none when the bill reaches the House floor next month.

"We tried that on two occasions without success," Byrnes said.

The administration proposal would establish the $324 billion level for a year starting July 1. Without new legislation, the debt limit would drop July 1 to the permanent level of $285 billion.

STASSEN: Harold E. Stassen has become the third Republican to take advantage of President Johnson's offer to give potential presidential candidates briefings on the world situation.

Stassen termed helpful Tuesday's session at which Undersecretary of State George W. Ball and Deputy Secretary of Defense Cyrus R. Vance participated.

CONSTRUCTION: The House has passed 340 to 5 a $1,599,014,500 appropriation bill to finance military construction in the year starting July 1.

Without amendment and by rollcall vote, the house approved the bill Tuesday and sent it on to the Senate.

SHIPYARDS: Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has canceled indefinitely plans to visit today the naval shipyards at Charleston, S.C., and Portsmouth, Va.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I made a big mistake and now I don't know how to get out of this terrible situation.

I'm a high school junior and I'm not beautiful but I have a nice face and a spectacular figure. Please don't think I am bragging. I've been told this by dozens of people — both boys and girls.

Well, when Tex asked me for a date I was honored. He is about the No. 1 guy in the whole school, handsome and from a rich family. I wanted to make sure he would ask me out a second time, so I let him go further than I should have.

Now that's all Tex wants to do. I've suggested that we double date but he always finds excuses and shows up alone. I'm ashamed of myself and want him to know I made a mistake on our first date and that I'm really not that kind of girl. How can I do it? — BAD START.

Dear Start: It's awfully hard to keep 'em down on the farm, honey, after they've seen Paree.

You'll never persuade a fellow you aren't that kind of girl when he has learned from experience that you are. My advice is to stop seeing Tex and chalk this mistake up to experience.

Chain Gang Fugitive

Dear Ann: What's with this chain letter stuff? It used to be just a nice little good luck poem from a friend. Then it branched out — and strangers began asking you to make 10 copies of some darned fool thing.

Now it's "Send a fifth of Scotch — or $8 worth of trading stamps." What's more, they make it sound as if you will be plagued with 13 years of bad luck if you don't follow the instructions.

Last week I received a bath towel chain letter, and one requesting that I send $5 to the last name on the list. I didn't follow up with either one and my conscience is bothering me because I broke the chain.

Is this stuff on the level? Does it work? Have you ever heard of anybody who received anything from a chain letter — except a request? Thank you. — IGNORANT.

Dear Ig: Chain letters are illegal! They are also stupid because they are predicated on the theory that you can get something for nothing.

Frightened Girl

Dear Ann: It seems odd to worry about someone you don't even know, but I'm concerned about that teen-age girl who wrote that she is frightened to be in the house alone.

My daughter went through the same thing. She used to worry about someone's crawling in through her bedroom window at night. You have no idea how many hours I spent with that girl, trying to make her see that all the windows and screens were tightly closed and that it was impossible for anyone to get into the house.

It took me two years to get to the bottom of it. I still find it hard to believe and torturous to endure, but her stepfather wouldn't leave her alone when I was at work.

My daughter is now married happily and has three lovely children. God was with us, Ann. I hope somehow He will be with the girl who wrote. — AUGUSTA, MAINE.

Dear Augusta: Experts tell us that it is often extremely difficult to ferret out the initial reason for fear.

In your daughter's case there was a direct relationship between her fear and the cause of it. In many instances there is no visible or apparent relationship, which is why professional help can be costly and time consuming — but it is well worth it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, May 27, the 148th day of 1964. There are 218 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1668, the General Assembly of Massachusetts sent three men—Thomas Gold, William Turner and John Farnum—into exile in the wilderness. They were banished from the Puritan colony because they were Baptists.

On this date

In 1933, the Century of Progress Exposition opened in Chicago.

Five years ago — President Dwight D. Eisenhower, West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and other leading statesmen attended funeral services in Washington for former Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Army Captain Hurt As Copter Explodes

DELANO, Calif. (AP)—Army Capt. John A. Johnston, whose parents live in Youngstown, Ohio, was injured Tuesday when an Army helicopter reportedly exploded north of here. A civilian, Robert N. Turk, 29, of Lancaster, Calif., was killed.

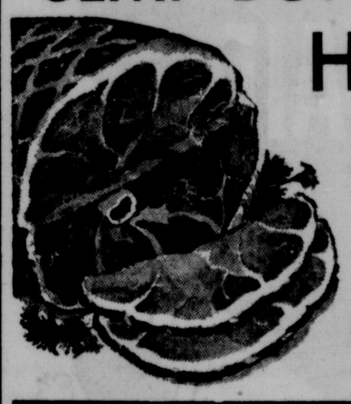

The Army said it could not confirm there had been an explosion until an investigation was completed. Johnston, 33, who lives with his wife and five children at Edwards Air Foce Base, was hospitalized with burns and abrasions. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. William A. Johnston of Youngstown.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I made a big mistake and now I don't know how to get out of this terrible situation.

I'm a high school junior and I'm not beautiful but I have a nice face and a spectacular figure. Please don't think I am bragging, I've been told this by dozens of people — both boys and girls.

Well, when Tex asked me for a date I was honored. He is about the No. 1 guy in the whole school, handsome and from a rich family. I wanted to make sure he would ask me out a second time, so I let him go further than I should have.

Now that's all Tex wants to do. I've suggested that we double date but he always finds excuses and shows up alone. I'm ashamed of myself and want him to know I made a mistake on our first date and that I'm really not that kind of girl. How can I do it? — BAD START.

Dear Start: It's awfully hard to keep 'em down on the farm, honey, after they've seen Paree.

You'll never persuade a fellow you aren't that kind of girl when he has learned from experience that you are. My advice is to stop seeing Tex and chalk this mistake up to experience.

Chain Gang Fugitive

Dear Ann: What's with this chain letter stuff? It used to be just a nice little good luck poem from a friend. Then it branched out — and strangers began asking you to make 10 copies of some darned fool thing.

Now it's "Send a fifth of Scotch — or $5 worth of trading stamps." What's more, they make it sound as if you will be plagued with 13 years of bad luck if you don't follow the instructions.

Last week I received a bath towel chain letter, and one requesting that I send $5 to the last name on the list. I didn't follow up with either one and my conscience is bothering me because I broke the chain.

Is this stuff on the level? Does it work? Have you ever heard of anybody who received anything from a chain letter — except a request? Thank you. — IGNORANT.

Dear Ig: Chain letters are illegal! They are also stupid because they are predicated on the theory that you can get something for nothing.

Frightened Girl

Dear Ann: It seems odd to worry about someone you don't even know, but I'm concerned about that teen-age girl who wrote that she is frightened to be in the house alone.

My daughter went through the same thing. She used to worry about someone's crawling in through her bedroom window at night. You have no idea how many hours I spent with that girl, trying to make her see that all the windows and screens were tightly closed and that it was impossible for anyone to get into the house.

It took me two years to get to the bottom of it. I still find it hard to believe and torturous to endure, but her stepfather wouldn't leave her alone when I was at work.

My daughter is now married happily and has three lovely children. God was with us, Ann. I hope somehow He will be with the girl who wrote. — AUGUSTA, MAINE.

Dear Augusta: Experts tell us that it is often extremely difficult to ferret out the initial reason for fear.

In your daughter's case there was a direct relationship between her fear and the cause of it. In many instances there is no visible or apparent relationship, which is why professional help can be costly and time consuming — but it is well worth it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, May 27, the 148th day of 1964. There are 218 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1668, the General Assembly of Massachusetts sent three men—Thomas Gold, William Turner and John Farnum—into exile in the wilderness. They were banished from the Puritan colony because they were Baptists.

On this date

In 1933, the Century of Progress Exposition opened in Chicago.

Five years ago — President Dwight D. Eisenhower, West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and other leading statesmen attended funeral services in Washington for former Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Army Captain Hurt As Copter Explodes

DELANO, Calif. (AP)—Army Capt. John A. Johnston, whose parents live in Youngstown, Ohio, was injured Tuesday when an Army helicopter reportedly exploded north of here. A civilian, Robert N. Turk, 29, of Lancaster, Calif., was killed.

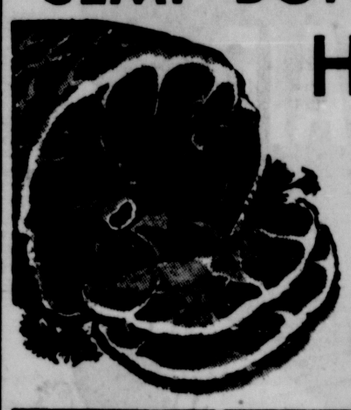

The Army said it could not confirm there had been an explosion until an investigation was completed. Johnston, 33, who lives with his wife and five children at Edwards Air Foce Base, was hospitalized with burns and abrasions. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. William A. Johnston of Youngstown.

90 Attend Installation Rites For World War I Barracks

Those installed were Ralph W. Johnston, Irvin J. Vorndran, Purley C. Smith, Omer V. Ryan, Daniel A. McKeever, Harold E. Taylor, Isaac L. Jones, Howard J. Kaufman, Willis S. Vandyne, Walter Mc. Clapsaddle and Arthur O. Clendenning.

Guest speaker was Bolinger, who also is First District commander.

Brief remarks were given by Albert H. Hill of Donora, past state commander; Charles F. Connors of Washington, Pa., state judge advocate; Charles F. Connors of Washington, deputy state inspector.

Also attending were Mrs. Emma Renner, president of the auxiliary of Monaca, and Mrs. Alice Baumgard of East Liverpool.

Hunter For 50 Years Makes Ducks By Hand

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP)—Duck hunter John F. Oberstaller says he hunted the wild game for a half century, and now that he's retired he makes miniature ducks by hand.

He then paints them complete with feathers until the finished product is amazingly realistic.

Snip the fat around that steak, using a kitchen scissors, to keep the meat from curling.

90 Attend Installation Rites For World War I Barracks

Those installed were Ralph W. Johnston, Irvin J. Vorndran, Purley C. Smith, Omer V. Ryan, Daniel A. McKeever, Harold E. Taylor, Isaac L. Jones, Howard J. Kaufman, Willis S. Vandyne, Walter Mc. Clapsaddle and Arthur O. Clendenning.

Brief remarks were given by Albert H. Hill of Donora, past state commander; Charles F. Connors of Washington, Pa., state judge advocate; Charles F. Connors of Washington, deputy state inspector.

Also attending were Mrs. Emma Renner, president of the auxiliary of Monaca, and Mrs. Alice Baumgard of East Liverpool.

Hunter For 50 Years Makes Ducks By Hand

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP)—Duck hunter John F. Oberstaller says he hunted the wild game for a half century, and now that he's retired he makes miniature ducks by hand.

"I began making these little ones out of cork as a hobby," he said.

The 68-year-old retired courthouse employe carves the tiny foul from chunks of discarded insulating cork and affixes heads, wings and tails carved from pine wood.

He then paints them complete with feathers until the finished product is amazingly realistic.

Council Sets Gas Rate Hike At Salineville

SALINEVILLE — An ordinance providing for a 4 per cent increase in gas rates was approved by Council Tuesday night.

The Columbia Gas Co. had originally requested an 11.9 per cent boost, but representatives of the utility said last night the ordinance proposed by Council would be taken under study.

The Council rate ordinance would apply for three years, and would boost the minimum charge from $2.30 to $2.39, Acting Mayor Gene Jarvis said.

In other action, Council authorized advertising for bids for mining of coal on village dump property. A strip mine concern has requested the right to mine the coal and pay the village, but Council authorized seeking of other offers.

Preparation of an ordinance forbidding use of firearms at the dump was authorized. The village has such an ordinance, but the dump is outside the village limits.

Council authorized a week's vacation for Pete Growall, street supervisor, starting Friday; approved hiring of Robert Wilson as extra officer for the Memorial Day weekend, and directed Police Chief Robert Lewis to purchase a new American Flag for display at the Village Hall Saturday.

Council also reminded residents of regulations requiring grass and weeds on lots to be cut, and suggested all such lots be prepared for the weekend holiday.

VFW Post Holds Officer Induction

Plans to participate in the City's Memorial Day parade were discussed. Work was started on moving equipment to a new temporary headquarters on Green Ln.

Lisbon Girl Selected As Supervisor Of Pool

LISBON — Miss Kathy Mugridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mugridge of N. Market St., will be in charge of the Sadie P. VanFossan Swimming Pool this season, beginning June 6. Her salary was set at $700 for the season.

David Halverstadt will be lifeguard and Linda Neill and Norma Crook will double as cashiers and lifeguards, when necessary. Lifeguard's pay was set at $1 per hour and cashiers 75 cents.

Season tickets will be sold up to opening day at a reduced rate, after that time they will be full price.

The pool has been repaired and will be painted.

Home Demonstration Council Will Convene

LISBON—The quarterly meeting of the Columbiana County Home Demonstration Council will be held June 4 from 10:30 a. m. to 2:30 p. m. at the East Fairfield Methodist Church.

Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture, said the agenda will include preliminary plans for the Christmas tea, fair demonstration topics and assignments, review of the home demonstration handbook and committee reports.

Wellsville VFW Given Report On Project At Park

A report on work done at the 4th St. Memorial Park was heard at a meeting of Wellsville VFW Post 5647 Tuesday night.

The post constructed new flower planters at the park, along with other work. The project is nearly complete, with the exception of some cleanup work.

Plans were discussed for continuing the project and doing further work later.

The post gave a vote of thanks to Local Union 10, Bricklayers and Stonemasons, for allowing members to donate labor for the project.

A discussion also was held on the cleaning, painting and redecorating of the interior of the post home. Dean Morgan was named chairman.

James Daniels, commander, conducted business. The Wellsville Memorial Council met last night at the Roadside Park to rehearse for the Memorial Day services Saturday. A rehearsal also was held at Springhill Cemetery.

Next meeting is June 9.

The Review Sports

WEDNESDAY, MAY 27, 1964 EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW PAGE 28

Colts, Reds Top Braves, Dodgers

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

How else can you explain the New York Mets scoring 19 runs?

In a week you say? Well, it's true that would be a prolific output for Casey Stengel's runless wonders for seven days and it's more than they scored last week. But we're talking about a single game.

That's right, a single game. And there were 2,503 fans in Chicago's Wrigley Field Tuesday who can testify to the 19-1 victory. In years to come that number is sure to grow. People like to say they were on hand when history was made.

The Mets, whose past performance has made them somewhat modest souls, did most of the damage with a couple of fellows named Smith. They weren't the cough drop boys but Dick and Charley certainly irritated the Cubs as New York sprayed 23 hits against six Chicago hurlers.

Dick Smith became the first Met ever to get five hits in a game with three singles, a double and a triple. Charley Smith belted a three-run homer, the game's only four bagger, and added two singles for five RBI.

Jack Fisher, delighted with the fantastic support, fashioned a four-hitter and went the distance for the first time since May 3, 1963.

And Stengel? The Ol' Perfesser was delighted with the show. "Well, I suppose most of the club owners will be trying to contact me now to get my players," he told newsmen.

Don't expect a mad rush, Case.

While the Mets were wearing out Cub fielders, Pittsburgh gave Philadelphia a similar treatment. The Pirates scored 10 runs in the first two innings and coasted to a 13-4 victory. Houston dropped Milwaukee 4-2 and Cincinnati whipped Los Angeles 6-2. San Francisco and St. Louis were rained out.

The Mets jumped on Cub starter Bob Buhl for four runs in the first and completed the carnage with six runs in the ninth. In between they kept the Cubs chasing base hits all over the field and looked like anything but cellar dwellers.

Manny Mota had a solo homer and Jim Pagliaroni crashed a grand slamer as the Pirates hopped on Chris Short and Dallas Green in the first two innings.

Vern Law on it with a six-hitter fanning seven and walking one. Cookie Rojas and John Callison homered for the Phils.

Dick Farrell became the first seven-game winner in the majors, throttling the Braves on four hits. Al Spangler's leadoff homer got the Colts started and Farrell's 11-strikeout pitching kept them going.

The Braves, who had banged out 43 hits in winning their last three games, made their loudest noise with solo homers by Felipe Alou and Joe Torre. Torre also doubled and walked raising his average to .376.

Don Drysdale permitted just three hits but Cincinnati bunched them in the second inning and combined with Drysdale's throwing error on an attempted pickoff it led to a 3-0 Reds' lead.

Cincinnati added three in the ninth against Ron Perranoski. Bob Purkey had a four-hit shutout until Tommy Davis singled and Frank Howard cracked his 13th homer in the 9th.

NL Umpires Issue Strike Ultimatum

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Baseball League Umpires Association, having failed to pressure a pension plan increase, has issued a strike ultimatum.

Either the National League meets the association's demands or "appropriate action" will be taken by 3 p.m., July 3, said attorney John J. Reynolds of Chicago, who represents the group, on Tuesday.

The move hit such baseball officials as Warren Giles, president of the National League, and Ford Frick, the game's commissioner, by surprise.

However, the umpires' association has been angling for increased pension benefits for the last six months without receiving league courtesy, said Reynolds.

Eighteen of the league's 20 umpires met with Reynolds in Chicago and drafted a letter demanding increased benefits. Copies of the letter were sent to Giles and every team in the league.

Currently, the pension plan for umpires retiring at 55 calls for $200 a year for each year of service meaning an umpire with 10 years of active service would receive $2,000 a year upon retirement.

The association, however, wants this figure boosted to $300 a year for each year of service. Recent dickering resulted in an offer of $250 by Giles which the National League umpires turned down before issuing their ultimatum.

Reynolds said that he and five directors of the group met with league officials at the major league meetings last December. This group also huddled with the National League Pension Committee.

"We made repeated requests for an opportunity to discuss our demands," said Reynolds "but we heard nothing from the league. Two weeks ago we received a letter from Mr. Giles in which he presented his proposal of $250 a year per man.

"We held our meeting and the umpires voted against acceptance. That is our final decision and I don't think we have to hold any other meetings."

Frick said he didn't know anything about a strike threat and added that "I would have to say at this time that it is a league matter."

Umpires in the American League are not organized such as their National League counterparts. American League umpires had a pension plan calling for $150 a man per year of service until this spring when the figure was boosted to $250.

Yankees, Twins And Red Sox Win

Wally Bunker, the 19-year-old rookie right-hander creating a sensation with the Baltimore Orioles, marched up on the hill for the fifth time this season Tuesday night and came away with his fifth victory, 2-1 over the Detroit Tigers.

There was, of course, the usual skirmishing, but Bunker has not been bombed yet. This time he set the first 13 Tigers down in order and allowed only three hits before he was lifted for a pinch hitter when the Orioles scored the winning run in the seventh.

Bunker's professional experience before this season consisted of 14 games with Stockton in 1963, where he posted a 10-1 record, and an 0-1 record with the Orioles after reaching the majors at the tailend of the season.

The teen-ager tosser has become the Orioles' No. 1 winner, allowing only 22 hits and eight earned runs in 41 innings for an eye-opening 1.76 ERA.

While Bunker was winning his fifth straight, Ken McBride of the Los Angeles Angels continued to add to his total on the debit side of the ledger. McBride allowed only three hits in eight innings but lost to Minnesota 2-1 for his eighth defeat since an opening-game triumph.

Elsewhere in the American League, Boston edged Washington 3-2 on Ed Bressoud's run-producing single in the ninth and the New York Yankees defeated Cleveland 3-2 on Bobby Richardson's ninth inning single. The Chicago White Sox were rained out at Kansas City.

The Orioles broke a 1-1 tie in the seventh on singles by Jerry Adair, Dick Brown and Bob Johnson, who pinch hit for Bunker. Stu Miller protected the edge, pitching no-hit ball over the final three innings in his 18th relief appearance.

The Tigers had tied it in the fifth against Bunker on a walk, Bill Freehan's single and a sacrifice fly by Don Wert.

McBride, protecting a 1-0 lead lost it in the fourth when he hit Rich Rollins with a pitch and an error and a walk filled the bases. Don Mincher's sacrifice fly got the run home. The Twins moved ahead to stay in the seventh when Mincher singled and eventually scored on an infield hit by winning pitcher Jim Kaat.

Jim King hit for the cycle for the Senators, smacking a single, double, triple and homer. The homer tied the score 2-2 in the sixth. The Red Sox won it in the ninth when winning pitcher Earl Wilson led off with a walk and moved around on singles by Dalton Jones and Eddie Bressoud.

Richardson, who earlier had belted a pair of two-out triples but was stranded, drove across the tie-breaker for the Yankees following singles by Elston Howard and Phil Linz. The victory went to Pete Mikkelsen, working in relief of Whitey Ford. Roger Maris homered for the Yankees as they scored two runs in the fourth inning.

Burbick, Chester Legion, Golden Star Win In LL

With Diddle hurling a three-hit shutout, Burbick's gained a 5-0 triumph over the Medics in a successful Little League opener Tuesday night at LaCroft.

The youngster struck out 10 batters in recording the victory. The loss leaves the Medics with a 1-1 record.

Staley homered with one runner on, and also socked a double to lead Burbicks. Golden and Diddle also doubled. Welch had a two - base hit for the losers.

Chester Legion also opened with a victory, beating McBurneys, 7-6 behind strong pitching of Steve Murray, who struck out 14, and gave up only three hits.

Craig Means lashed a double and single to account for three runs batted - in for Chester Legion. Rick Shuck, who hurled for the losers and yielded only four hits, hit a double, and teammate Bill Cox singled and drove in two runs. The loss was the second in a row for McBurneys.

Sayre Electric, Hancock Savings Win In Softball

Sayre Electric plated a tie-breaking run on a double by Tom Stepian and a single by Jack Gallagher to nip American Vitrified, 9-8, in the Chester City Softball League Tuesday night. The deciding run came in the seventh inning.

Ex-Dayton U. Aide To Coach Fort Wayne

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—Bill Smith, former assistant football coach and player at the University of Dayton, will tutor the Fort Wayne Central Catholic High School gridders this fall.

Smith, who played football for Dayton for three years and graduated in 1957, was a Flyer assistant coach last year. He was named to the Fort Wayne post Tuesday.

Riverview's Colt Winner

Riverview Florists, cellar team of the Colt League last season, rose up to conquer the Dentists, 5-1, behind southpaw Jerry Vaughn's five - hitter Tuesday night at Colt Field.

Vaughn, striking out seven, allowed a single tally by the Dentists in the fifth inning when Blythe socked a triple to score a runner.

Sanford drove in a run for Riverview with a double, and also singled in three trips. Riverview collected six hits off Burkhart of the Dentists, who fanned three.

The florists scored single runs in the first and second innings, added two in the fifth, and one in the sixth.

Northern Dancer Celebrates His Third Birthday

NEW YORK (AP) — Northern Dancer celebrated his third birthday today with a brilliant past behind him and an even brighter future in the offing.

There was a birthday cake that looked very much like carrots for the little package of equine dynamite from Canada at barn 31 in Belmont Park's stable area. And trainer Horatio Luro gave the Kentucky Derby and Preakness winner the day off from preparing for the June 6 running of the Belmont Stakes, when he will seek to become the first Triple Crown winner since Citation in 1948 and the ninth in history.

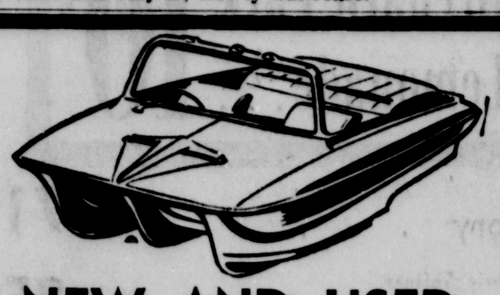

All horses automatically advance a year in age on January 1. But the Canadian-born and owned son of Nearctic-Natalma wasn't foaled until May 27, 1961 —late by United States customs.

Northern Dancer goes into the Belmont Stakes with a record of 13 victories, one in a betless race, two seconds and one third in 16 career starts and earnings of $519,072. He has won seven straight since finishing third in his 3-year-old debut.

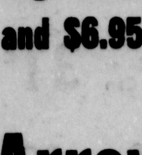

Patterson To Meet Machen On July 5

NEW YORK (AP) — Floyd Patterson will fight Eddie Machen in his "usual style" at Stockholm, Sweden July 5. And if Floyd's "usual style" backfires, as it did twice against Sonny Liston, the former heavyweight champion says he'll quit the ring.

Patterson, who left by plane for Europe Tuesday, said at the airport he hasn't considered losing to Machen. But, he added, should he be knocked out or take a bad beating, he definitely will retire.

Pony League Tightens Up

The Pony League field was squared away tightly today following decisive victories Tuesday by Burbick Hardware and George Bright's.

Burbick's flattened Woodbine Laundry, 13-4, as Kidder won a four - hitter and rang up 12 strike - outs.

Bright's went on a five - run binge in the sixth inning to win easily, 9-2, over Littens.

Burbick batters lashed out 13 hits off three Woodbine pitchers. Lovejoy started for the laundrymen and gave way after a three-run uprising by Burbicks in the first inning. Walrath and Waite worked in relief.

Canne picked up the mound victory for Bright's, holding Littens to four hits. But he needed relief help from Campbell, and together they fanned 10 batters.

Start-To-Finish Lead Predicted For Clark In '500'

By DALE BURGESS
Associated Press Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Jimmy Clark caravan, which picks up another batch of speed fans every time the Flying Scot races in this country, fully expects him to lead from start to finish in Saturday's 48th 500-mile classic Saturday.

They're asking quite a bit.

The closest anybody ever came to leading all the way was Billy Arnold's performance in 1930 in a Hartz-Miller 8 that outclassed the field. Arnold grabbed the lead on the third lap and never was headed after that.

The 28-year-old Clark, who must be the most eligible bachelor around Duns, Scotland, rambles around the Speedway munching apples and looking like anybody but the world's most ferocious competitor in a race car. That title is disputed vigorously by admirers of such American racers as Parnelli Jones, A. J. Foyt and Rodger Ward but the Yanks have yet to show they can compete with Clark on the international Grand Prix circuit.

He started racing only eight years ago, a short period compared with many of the top American drivers. He competed in one race at Crimond, Scotland, that year. He drove in only two the next year.

He started running in earnest in 1958 on the Scottish Border Reivers team of Jaguars. He shifted to the English Lotus team at the start of 1960 and finished eighth in world standings. He moved up to sixth in 1961, second in 1962 and the championship last year.

Clark won an unprecedented seven Grand Prix races last season and added the Netherlands Grand Prix last Sunday. He finished a close second to Parnelli Jones in the 1963 Indianapolis 500, won the Mialuwkee 200 in record time and broke the one-lap record at the Trenton 200 before going out with mechanical trouble.

He finished No. 6 in U.S. Auto Club standings against drivers who ran on the USAC circuit all season.

Clark is back at the Speedway in a new Lotus-Ford, with about 50 more horsepower than he had last year and a chassis that reputedly handles much better. He hiked the 10-mile qualifying record to 158.8 m.p.h. in the trials and set a one lap record of 159.4 around the 2½-mile track.

Cubs Recall Warner

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Cubs have recalled right-handed relief pitcher Jack Warner, who hails from Alliance, Ohio, from their Salt Lake City affiliate in the Pacific Coast League. Warner is expected to report Thursday. He is 1-0 in 13 games with Salt Lake.

Five different jockeys have won with Northern Dancer.

Ike Steals Golf Show From Masters Champion

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

ARDMORE, Pa. (AP) — The crowd at Merion Golf Club was apprehensive. Comments included, "Gee, I hope he plays well," to "I hope he doesn't embarrass himself."

The "he" was Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, and the former president not only didn't embarrass himself, but stole the show from his partner, Masters champion Arnold Palmer.

Eisenhower and Palmer teamed in a match Tuesday for the benefit of the Heart Fund against veteran pro Jimmy Demaret and dancer Ray Bolger. The Heart Fund reported it took in $25,000.

On the course made famous by Bobby Jones, when he completed his golf grand slam here in 1930 (winning the British and American Open and amateur tournaments, Gen. Ike played the kind of golf that prompted Palmer to comment:

"I must admit, he carried me all the way. His golf was superb."

This was Ike's first public golf exhibition, and he did himself proud as he and Palmer defeated Demaret and Bolger 3 and 2 over the par 36-34 course in suburban Philadelphia.

Actually, the match was over from a competitive standpoint at the end of the 16th, but at Ike's insistence, the foursome finished the round. When the 16th hole was halved, referee Clarence Benedict, president of the U.S. Golf Association, said to Ike:

"The match is over General. You've won. Do you want to stop or play the last two holes."

Ike consulted with an aide, asking the time, and was advised to call it a day.

So they played. And on the 17th hole Ike brought the house down. Putting from the edge of the green he dropped in a 50-footer.

As the crowd cheered and applauded, he tipped his white golf cap, grinned from ear to ear and accepted congratulatory whacks on the back from his fellow players.

Asked if that was the longest putt he ever made, Ike said, "I've sunk longer, but they're all miracles as far as I'm concerned."

NBA Revises Draft Rules, Sets Pension

NEW YORK (AP) — With a nod in the direction of its have-not clubs, the National Basketball Association has modified its draft rules.

In the annual meeting of the board of governors Tuesday, the league also voted to provide its players with the controversial pension plan which nearly caused a strike at the NBA All-Star game in Boston Jan. 14.

The revised draft regulations will give the league's tailend clubs two choices each before any other team is permitted to pick in the annual player selections each spring.

The pension plan adoption resolves an issue which has been under discussion for more than two years. Originally proposed by Fred Zollner, owner of the Detroit Pistons, the plan was thrust into the spotlight by the players at last season's All-Star game.

Disgruntled at what they called stalling tactics by the owners, the players demanded consideration of the plan before last January's game. When the demand was turned down, they threatened not to play the game.

League President Walter Kennedy, who was voted a new four-year contract and a raise in salary at Tuesday's meeting, finally persuaded the players to take the court after a 15-minute delay.

DelGreco Spoils Bauta's Debut With 3-Run Shot

Ed Bauta made his 1964 International League pitching debut for Buffalo's Bisons Tuesday night, but the Toronto Maple Leafs got all the benefits.

Bobby Del Greco, first batter to face Bauta in the ninth, hit a three-run homer to give the Leafs a 5-3 victory over Buffalo.

In other games, Jacksonville defeated Richmond 2-1, Atlanta edged Columbus 4-3 and Rochester and Syracuase battled to a 7-7 tie in a game called after eight innings because of rain.

Southpaw Mel Nelson pitched and batted Atlanta to victory over Columbus. He picked up his first victory and drove in one Cracker run with a single.

A bases-loaded single by Tony Washington which drove in two runs, sparked a three-run first inning for Atlanta. The Jets shelled Nelson with two runs in the seventh, but Don Williams preserved the victory.

Walters, Springfield South Coach, Resigns

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Paul (Bucky) Walters resigned Tuesday as head basketball coach at Springfield South High School. He will assume the post of faculty manager and continue teaching.

During his 11 years as South coach, his teams compiled a 266-115 record, and his 1951 squad won the state championship. Before coming to Springfield, he coached for six years at Columbus East and won three city championships.

Reds High On McCool, Southpaw Bonus Hurler

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds think their bonus southpaw — Billy McCool—has one of the most promising careers in the National League ahead of him.

"He throws a good fast ball, he should never have any trouble with his control and for a 19-year-old he has a real good arm," says pitching coach Jim Turner. "Another thing, he's an eager worker."

This is McCool's second year in professional baseball and he has gone nine innings in relief, allowed nine hits and given up three earned runs.

Just out of high school at nearby Lawrenceburg, Ind., he looked anything but outstanding with Tampa in the Florida State League—if you stuck only to the cold statistics.

He won only five games and lost 13, but in seven of those contests Tampa was shut out. McCool gave up 119 hits, 33 earned runs and 54 bases on balls, while striking out 165 batters in 148 innings. His earned run average was 2.01.

Cincinnati was so impressed that McCool was promoted to the San Diego club in the Pacific Coast League. He won the four games he pitched for the Padres, allowing 23 hits in 23 innings and fanning 14. His earned run average was 1.04.

"We started him throwing both sidearm and overhand in the winter instructional league," Turner said.

"We were particularly interested in his developing a good overhand curve and in improving his change of pace."

McCool said he is working hard on a change-up pitch and the over-hand curve.

"I haven't got the overhand curve real well yet," McCool said. "It hangs sometimes and that isn't good."

Ohio Due To Put Clamp On Blue Cross Rate Hike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Department of Insurance was expected today to put temporary clamps on a rate increase it granted less than a week ago to a Blue Cross subsidiary.

The expected suspension stems from a request from Gov. James A. Rhodes, who received several protests after the increase was granted last Friday to Hospital Care Corp. of Southwestern Ohio Blue Cross.

John M. McElroy said Tuesday night that Rhodes had asked State Insurance Director William R. Morris to hold up approval of the rate increase and schedule a public hearing on the hike in accordance with the Administrative Procedures Act.

McElroy could not say how soon the hearing would be held.

The increase granted last Friday by the Insurance Department was the third for Hospital Care in the last five years. Effective Oct. 1, it would hike insurance rates for family care plans from $2 to $2.60 a month and for single persons from 75 cents to $1.20 a month.

McElroy said the protests, "particularly from the AFL-CIO," objected that the Administrative Procedures Act was not followed in approving the increase. The act provides that a public hearing, after 30 days' notice, be held before the increase is approved.

The AFL-CIO protest McElroy referred to was a telegram sent to Rhodes by the 100,000-member Cincinnati AFL - CIO Labor Council after the Insurance Department announced approval of the rate hike. It called on Rhodes to suspend the increase until a public hearing could be held.

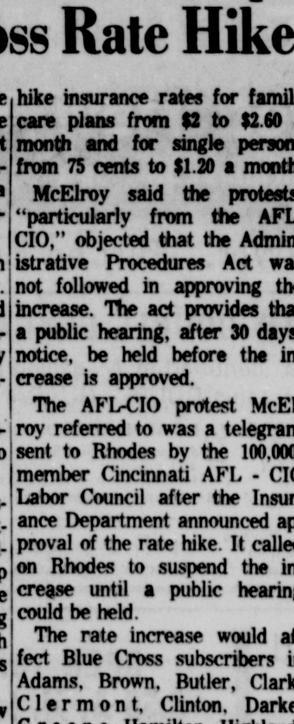

The rate increase would affect Blue Cross subscribers in Adams, Brown, Butler, Clark, Clermont, Clinton, Darke, Greene, Hamilton, Highland, Miami, Montgomery, Preble, Scioto and Warren counties.

Historic Lisbon House Will Open For Season

LISBON — The Lisbon Historical Society said the Old Stone House on E. Washington St. will be open June 5 from 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m. and June 7 from 2 to 5 p.m., then remain open each weekend on Fridays and Sundays at the same hours through September.

Refreshments were served by the house committee. Next meeting will be Sept. 29.

Taken To Penitentiary

LISBON — Chief Deputy Robert Beresford conveyed Arvid Barkley, 36, of Columbiana to the Ohio State Penitentiary today under sentence of 1-3 years for non-support. Barkley had received probation for this offense March 12, but violated terms and was sentenced by Judge Joel H. Sharp.

'500' Golf Event Opens

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Under suddenly fickle Hoosier skies, 149 pros and 10 amateurs launched the $70,000 "500" Festival Open Golf Tourney today over a wet 6,467-yard layout that was mastered by most of the veterans in tune-ups Tuesday.

Although an afternoon deluge abruptly ended Tuesday's celebrity pro-am event, 23 of 27 pros to finish matched or busted the 35-36—71 par. Sam Carmichael, a neighbor to the course who plays out of nearby Martinsville, Ind., drilled a 65—including an eagle 3 on the final hole. He still was four strokes shy of the 18-hole record set last year on the short, flat course.

Back for the fifth annual meet are defending champion Dow Finsterwald, who had a 16-under-par 268 last year; two-time winner Doug Ford, and 1962 champ Billy Casper. This year's tourney is worth $12,000 to the winner.

In the field today were Jack Nicklaus, the leading money winner on this season's PGA tour, and Mike Souchak, frseh from a victory in last weekend's Memphis Open. They didn't participate in the warm-up round.

Yesterday's Stars

By The Associated Press

BATTING — Dick Smith and Charley Smith, Mets, led 23-hit explosion in 19-1 thumping of Chicago Cubs. Dick collected five hits—three singles, a double and a triple—while Charley drove in five runs with three hits, one a homer.

PITCHING — Dick Farrell, Colts, became majors' first seven-game winner, allowing only four hits and striking out 11 in 4-2 victory over Milwaukee.

Body Recovered

ELIZABETHTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Two days of dragging operations in the Whitewater River resulted in the recovery of John Lovett's body late Tuesday. John, 14, went swimming in the river Sunday while on an outing with his parents who live in Cincinnati. Attempts to rescue him failed.

Dispute With Umpire Costs Hank Bauer $50

BALTIMORE (AP) — Manager Hank Bauer of the Baltimore Orioles was advised Tuesday that he had been fined $50 for his vigorous dispute with umpire Al Salerno last Friday night.

"I think I got off pretty lucky," Bauer said after receiving a telegram from American League President Joe Cronin. "I thought that if I was going to get fined, it would be more than that. That's their prerogative — to fine me whatever they want."

Bauer charged onto the field when Salerno warned Oriole pitcher Steve Barber and fined him $50 after Minnesota's Tony Oliva was struck on the batting helmet by a Barber pitch. Bauer had to be restrained by other umpires and Oriole players.

Waiting to see her agent, Harrison ignores other canine job-seekers. She also models and works in TV.

A SHAGGY DOG STORY

Harrison and May Muth play a piano duet on a Sunday evening away from the theater. Their schedule calls for 8 shows a week.

Her name is Harrison now, but nine months ago she was a nameless mongrel in the Bide-A-Wee Home with little to look forward to except, at best, a gentle owner. Today she is a hit on Broadway and boasts among her friends Robert Horton and Inga Swenson, stars of the musical "110 In The Shade."

Harrison was taken from the orphanage on approval to try out for a part in the show. She made such an impression on the cast and crew that when her original part was deleted before opening night, a new "walk on" was written in.

She also has a home now. She and stage manager May Muth share a spacious apartment a short walk from the Broadhurst Theater—where the play is running. Miss Muth also now owns Harrison.

Since her debut on Broadway, Harrison is in demand for TV parts and commercials. She has her own agent and has even auditioned for a movie bit.

Harrison uses charm instead of method in her acting. She has received no formal training but her behavior both on and off stage is that of a veteran. Her performance in the musical is natural and unaffected. She just has fun.

On stage, Harrison ignores audience reaction and sticks to the script. Unlike stage dogs who receive many hours of formal training, Harrison is a ham. She loves acting.

West End Crash Damages 2 Cars

Two cars were damaged slightly in a West End crash Tuesday afternoon and another minor mishap in the downtown area involved a backing truck and a parked car, police said.

A collision at W. 8th St. and Shadyside Ave. at 12:45 involved an eastbound 1964 station wagon driven by Arlie Dye, 46, of Campground Rd. and a 1960 sedan of Mrs. Jo Ann Welch, 36, of 1069 Lincoln Ave., Wellsville, who was turning left off Shadyside onto the four-lane "superroad" stretch, police said.

The downtown mishap, timed at 2:15 on Washington St., involved a parked 1960 four-door sedan of Martha J. Morgan, 1202 Center St., Wellsville, and a backing 1963 model truck owned by Riverview Florists, Inc., of Anderson Blvd. and operated by D. James Hays, 33, of 1505 Globe St., officers said. Hays told police he was backing from Diamond Alley and did not see the Morgan car.

Bible School Staff Named

Teachers and staff have been named for the Daily Vacation Bible School of the Central Methodist Church of Wellsville to be held Monday through June 12, according to Mrs. Natalie Lewis, director.

Mrs. Shirley Townley will serve as assistant director. Others are Mrs. Judy Maurer, pianist; the Rev. Richard Maurer, song leader; Miss Connie Coen, secretary, and Mrs. Pauline Hermand, treasurer. Teachers are:

Beginners — Mrs. Frances Miller, Mrs. Osee Brand and Miss Bonnie Coen; Primary — Mrs. Alice Pickens, Mrs. Genevieve Culp and Mrs. Sue Andrews; Juniors — Mrs. Kathryn Geisse, Mrs. Ruby Plunkett and Miss Susan Culp, and Teen-age —Mrs. Townley and Mrs. Maurer.

Sessions will be from 9 to 11:30 a. m. daily and the theme is "Jesus, the Promised Savior." Those desiring to enroll should call Mrs. Lewis, LE. 2-3900, or Mrs. Maurer, LE. 2-2128, by Friday.

A one-egg cake, or a cake made from a white or yellow mix, may be served fresh from the oven with a pudding sauce of lemon or orange flavor.

Keep In Trim

Tall Girl Faces Challenge

Being tall in the teens and pre-teens can be so disconcerting to a young girl! One teenager, 5' 10" tall, who weighed 160 pounds, writes: "About 20 pounds are ruining my figure and my life. I need someone to report my progress to, and maybe a shoulder to cry on . . ."

Ida Jean Kain

This tall girl is unusually perceptive as to why she has allowed the pounds to come on. She is real and wonderful. . . and willing to challenge herself. To continue her letter:

"So often I've regretted my height. Everyone says, 'But it's so nice to be tall; all the fashion models are tall. I wish I were as tall as you are!' Those remarks just fry me. They always come from the petite girl with the cute figure.

"BECAUSE of my height, I've been very careless of my figure. Who can tell if I gain or lose five pounds? Consequently I weigh 160. I'm not fat, but I'm a little on the heavy side. Oh, boy! You don't know what a mouthful I've just said. . .for it's about the first time I've admitted I'm 'on the heavy side.'

"Well, I enjoy a challenge. I'm starting a diet and am determined to stay with the right pattern of eating. I need someone to report to, so I have chosen you. . .(lucky you!) I'm really going to try. I want this diet to work! I often eat because I am tense, or because I am tired and need a break, and a food break is the kind I take."

Then she concludes: "When I feel my will going limp, I'll write you! O.K.?"

Yes, indeed, O.K. Honey, write me as often as it will help you. You have taken a healthy-minded attitude by admitting you need to lose and want to lose. Think in terms of the right eating pattern instead of a rigid diet. Being tall, you can lose on ample food. Take a break when you are tired, but let it be a low-caloried beverage break, for one to three calories per bottle. It's just as refreshing and even more fun, because it's not fattening. Or, how about an apple for the teacher-to-be?

KEEP YOUR goal vividly in mind. At 144 pounds you'll look better, feel better, and be happier. Get a feeling of elation about achieving your heart's desire.

In the meantime, practice moving beautifully. A tall girl who moves with fluid grace can be poetry in action. Stand tall and move all-of-a-piece, as if you were walking to a Strauss waltz. You'll come to feel that nature handed you a prize.

You will soon be entering young womanhood, and it will not be a disadvantage to be tall. For today the men are coming taller, too!

Publishers, Movies, TV Cited

Children Being Exploited Editor Of Magazine Says

CHICAGO (AP) — The American child is being exploited by magazine and book publishers and the producers of movies and television programs, says Mrs. Herman Grant, editor of the PTA Magazine.

"These people could do so very much for our children," she said in an interview today. "The tragic truth is that they really do so little."

Mrs. Grant spoke out on the final day of the 68th annual convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

"The movies have practically exhausted every aberration and deviation known to mankind," she said. "The only hopeful thing is that Hollywood may succeed in making depravity a dismal bore.

"Unfortunately, at the same time, they may make a bore out of many of the good and useful and elevating things in life."

Mrs. Grant said, "Television, in spite of its frequent promises to produce entertaining and instructive children's programs, remains a wasteland—and one mined with dangers to children.

Mrs. Grant noted that many magazines have begun recently to feature discussions of schools and education. But, she said, if "these people were really serious about doing a service to children, they would refrain from their sensational and often misleading titles and editorial come-ons, their gimmicks and devices that make it evident they are less interested in presenting fact than in stirring up friction."

"When they want to increase circulation they follow a tried-and-true formula. First, they put in a reducing diet. If that doesn't do it, they tell the 16 ways to 'tease' a girl's hair.

Mrs. Grant leveled the same criticism at the publishers of many current books.

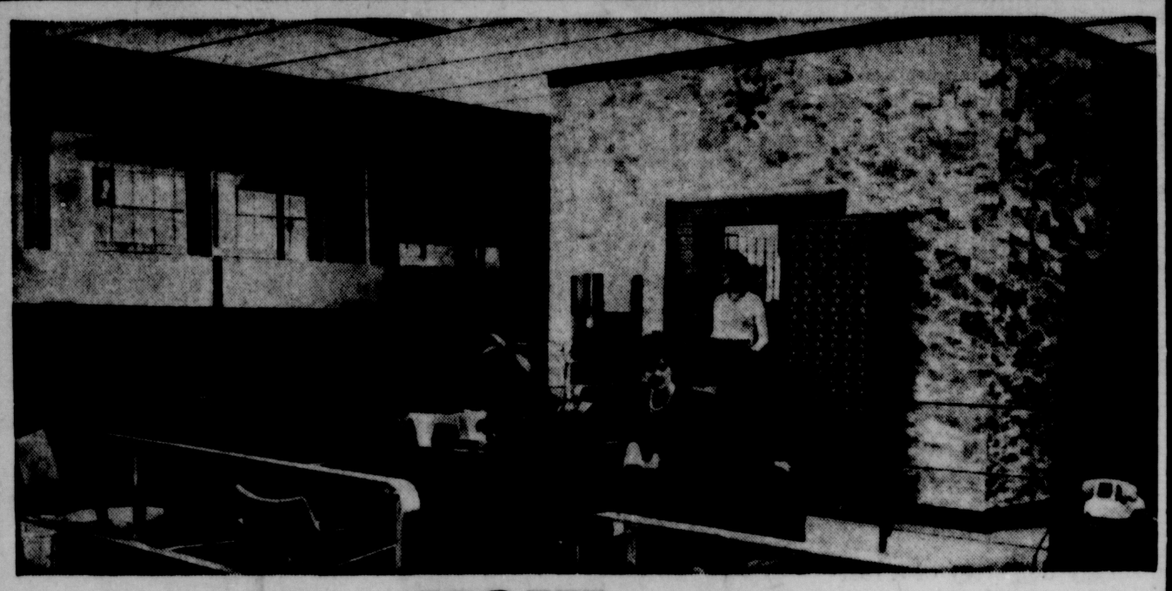

No More Walking

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — John Rowe, 14, won a $20 bet by completing a 50-mile hike. Asked what he would do with the money, he said he would save it — "I'd like to get a motor scooter."

Boy Killed When Car Goes Out Of Control

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Harry Reeder Jr., 14, of Rt. 1, Mechanicsburg, was killed Tuesday when a car went out of control on a highway in northeast Clark County and struck him in a private driveway.

Sheriff's deputies said Reeder was loading the trunk of a parked car when the auto driven by James Joseph Ricketts, 16, of Rt. 1, Mechanicsburg struck him, pinning him against the parked car. Ricketts was not hurt.

Officials Will Confer About Filing Charges

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: What to do with old nylon stockings? Here's my answer:

From the leg part of the stockings make yourself some quick-drying mops. They are the greatest.

Fold the stockings over double and tie them onto the end of your old mop handle. This can be done with any mop handle but I prefer the dust mop handle which has a wire loop on the end. After folding the stockings in half tie each one on the loop until you have a full mop head.

Then take the scissors and trim the ends and you have a dandy mop that is especially good for applying liquid wax or for dusting.

The best part about this is that it washes so easily and dries so quickly, never snags on furniture legs and never sours.

MARY WADSWORTH.

True!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I teach school and every minute is valuable when it comes to housework.

When buying a cloth for my kitchen table, I always purchase small, matching terry cloth towels to use as place mats over the tablecloth.

This saves frequent washing and ironing of the tablecloth because the little towels can be whisked off the table in a jiffy, run through the washer and put back on the table with no ironing.

LOIS STANLEY.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: When a small child falls and hurts his knee, etc., try slapping or hitting whatever he fell on and watch him laugh.

He forgets all about his hurt because he thinks it's so funny talking to a coffee table and punishing it.

DEAR HELOISE: A few nights ago we found ourselves badly in need of an ice bag and all the drug stores were closed for the night.

I filled my plastic shower cap with ice cubes and tied it tightly at the elastic edge with some plant tie (gardener's tape). I wrapped a towel around the entire cap and — presto — it was ready for use.

M. R. DAY.

DEAR HELOISE: Did you ever use a good grade floor or furniture wax on you silver to keep it from tarnishing?

P.N.C.

Yes, I have. I like the no-rubbing liquid waxes best. They are easier to apply.

I do find that it dims the luster of the silver a little bit but it sure keeps it from turning black so quickly. I do not recommend using wax on silver which comes in contact with food. However, it is wonderful for the outside of a tea service set, candelabra, etc.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: That wonderful nylon net again.

For men and women who wear black (or any color that catches lint), try wrapping a piece of nylon net around your hand and rubbing the garment.

DEAR HELOISE: When I have a recipe that calls for small meat balls, I make my meat ball mixture as usual.

Then I line my ice cube tray (or trays) with waxed paper. I pack the mixture into the tray, put the cube divider on top, and press down right to the bottom, and there they are!

The little meat squares are all the same size and need only a pat or two to make them round. Quick and easy.

MARY BORTHISTLE.

Blatt Lead Up To 791 In Senate Bid

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Genevieve Blatt Tuesday increased her lead over Justice Michael A. Musmanno for the Democratic nomination to 791 votes, with only 982 challenged absentee ballots still uncounted.

Except for the challenges — 540 in Philadelphia and 422 in Lackawanna County — the vote is complete throughout the state.

Even though the primary election was on April 28, exactly four weeks ago, neither side is conceding defeat until every ballot is counted.

The Philadelphia ballots were impounded after an appeal to the State Supreme Court and that high tribunal is still considering its course of action.

The contested Lackawanna ballots are being checked one by one by the county's commissioners who took the day off from the election dispute to handle other routine business.

Miss Blatt picked up 77 more votes today, as Philadelphia completed its recount of 3,300 machines. Since the machine retabulation began last week, she gained a net of 967 votes, wiping out a Musmanno lead of 165.

Miss Blatt, in the unofficial returns the day after the primary, had a lead of over 2,500.

So did Francis Smith, Democratic city chairman, who had supported Musmanno for the nomination to oppose Republican incumbent Hugh Scott.

2 IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Helen Mae Moore who passed away 4 years ago today.
You bid no one a last farewell,
The Heavenly gates had opened,
A lovely Voice said "Come".
They say time heals all sorrows,
And helps one to forget.
But time has only proved so far,
How much we miss you yet.
God gave us strength to face it,
And courage to bear the blow.
But what it meant to lose you,
No one will ever know.
And while you lay in Peaceful sleep,
Your memory we will always keep.

Junior Editors Quiz on MARS

QUESTION: Do astronomers think there is life on Mars?

ANSWER: The surface of Mars can be seen more clearly than that of other planets and it has certain features which suggests that some kind of life may exist. Experts agree that Mars has some air around it, although this atmosphere is thinner than ours on Earth. Mars is tilted on its axis, giving it seasons something like ours. Its north and south poles have white caps when each pole comes into its cold season, suggesting they are covered with frost or snow. With spring, the white vanishes and dark green patches appear which many believe to be some kind of primitive plant such as moss. With autumn, these turn brown, as our plants do on Earth. A large part of the planet appears red — supposedly because of iron oxides. This color gives the planet its name, since Mars was the ancient god of war, and the color is red. Many astronomers have seen straight lines on Mars which have been called "canals," built to conduct water — others say these are simply cracks of different colored rock.

Although many astronomers think there is plant life of some kind, most doubt that intelligent, higher beings can exist, because of the very small amount of water and air.
